

Administration Predicts Congress Will Complete Bill, Adjourn Saturday

Bankhead Reports That He Expects Final Form of Embargo Revision Soon in House

Senate Meets

Senate Has Short Session; Joint Conference Called Tomorrow

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP).—Administration leaders predicted today that Congress would complete revision of the nation's neutrality law—for which it was called into special session September 21—in time to adjourn Saturday night.

As the House moved toward a showdown on repeal of the arms embargo, key issue of revision, Speaker Bankhead disclosed that he expected neutrality legislation would be put into final form by a joint committee of Senate and House members tomorrow or Saturday.

Then, despite Republican insistence that Congress remain in session both to consider domestic legislation and to be ready to act on international problems, the speaker indicated his belief that the Democratic majorities would put over a vote to end the session.

Such a quick conclusion has been desired by President Roosevelt. Adjournment this Saturday would mean congressmen could go home for eight weeks, until the regular session begins January 3.

Senate Meets

Fitting its schedule into plans to speed the bill along, the Senate met briefly at noon E. S. T., then adjourned until 5 p. m., about the time the House may have finished with the bill in its present stage. The routine action then up to the Senate will be to authorize a conference with the House to work out the final form of the bill.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the foreign relations committee told reporters the joint conference committee would meet at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow. Majority Leader Barkley said six foreign relations committee members would be the Senate conferees: Pittman, George (D-Ga.), Wagner (D-NY), Connally (D-Tex.), Borah (D-Idaho) and Johnson (R-Calif.).

In debate today, the House was urged by Rev. Luther Johnson (D-Tex.) "to carry out the will of the American people" and support repeal of the arms embargo.

Johnson's View

Remarking that Premier Vyacheslav Molotov of Russia had criticized the United States foreign policy this week while the House was in the midst of neutrality discussion, Johnson said the embargo "was neutral in fact but unneutral in effect."

"It played the hands of dictators," he continued. "Instead of keeping nations out of war it has had the opposite effect."

"If we have statutes that will cause that, then we ought to wipe them off the books. They (repeal opponents) said that it's now too late to repeal the embargo."

"My reply is that we're neither a referee nor participant in that war and we don't propose to become either. We don't propose to change the war in Europe. We only want to protect the rights and lives of the citizens of the United States."

Check Upon Others

The Texan, ranking Democratic member on the House foreign affairs committee, said that the embargo was placed in the neutrality bill originally to "discourage other nations going to war."

"We hoped other nations would follow our example," he said. "It was not placed in there to keep us out of war. We realized that the sale of arms never got us into any war. It's the delivery of arms that's gotten us into war. I have failed to find any one who has ever said that the sale of arms ever involved us into war."

But Rep. Austin (R., Conn.) said that repeal of the embargo would make United States participation in the European conflict "not only possible, but probable" while retention made such participation "possible."

Rep. Andersen (R., Minn.) said removal of the embargo meant "notice on the rest of the world that the United States is unneutral."

Rep. Robison (R., Ky.) said he was against "pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for any country in Europe."

Rep. Hope (R., Kas.) noting that President Roosevelt signed the 1937 neutrality law, containing an arms embargo but now is opposed to an embargo, said this was not due to a change in world conditions but to "a change in the administration's foreign policy."

Rep. Borrett (R., Pa.) presented to the House a petition which he said was signed by 12,000 persons in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, asking that the 1937 neutrality law be restored in full.

Sues Student

Mrs. Gilda Olivia Lang, 34 (above) sued Miss Helen Sandorlin, a Johns Hopkins graduate student, for $50,000 damages for alienating the affections of her husband, Dr. Varley Howe Lang, 30, English instructor at the university.

Negro in Hospital Following Battle In Laborer's Shack

Assailant, Lou Wynn, Also Colored, Is in Ulster County Jail; His Hearing Friday

The question which man was the best fighter was decided Tuesday night between two negro workers on the Lackawack water works project when one of them picked up an axe and swung it in defense of his reputation as a fighter. According to the investigation of Sheriff Abram F. Molyneux and state troopers who worked in conjunction with B. V. S. police, Lou Wynn, 47, of White Plains attacked Willie Henderson with an axe when an argument arose over who might be the better fighter.

As a result Willie is in the Benedictine Hospital under treatment by Dr. John F. Larkin for a fracture of the skull and Lou Wynn is in jail awaiting a hearing on Friday before Justice Philip Slutsky at Ellenville on an assault, second degree, charge.

Starts in Shack

The argument started about 9 o'clock in a shack where the two men live when there was a dispute over who might be the better fighter. Henderson, according to the police, grabbed Wynn by the coat collar and when Wynn jerked away he picked up an axe and swung it four times at Henderson. Twice the axe found its mark and the result was Henderson's skull was fractured. Other colored boys in the place said the attack would have been continued but they restrained Wynn.

Henderson was brought to the U. S. Coast Guard Receives Word British Freighter Safe And Search for Vessel Is Suspended After Radio Message

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP).—The coast guard received word today that the British freighter Coulmore was safe.

The word was received by the coast guard cutter Bibb from a Canadian radio station at Campdown at 2:30 a. m. E. S. T. The station said it had heard directly from the Coulmore that she was safe.

The search for the vessel was suspended.

The Bibb was the leader of a squadron of coast guard and navy vessels scouring the Atlantic for the freighter about 680 miles east of New York after the interception early yesterday morning of a distress signal which indicated the freighter might have been attacked by a submarine.

The position given by the Coulmore at that time indicated it was just inside the neutrality safety

Dies Says Russia Is In Control as Far As Shipping Goes

Un-American Committee's Chairman Says Union Is Under Communists' Rule

Tells of 'Plot'

Ex-Union Official Tells of an Attempt to Murder Him

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP).—Chairman Dies (D., Tex.) of the House committee of un-American activities expressed the opinion today that Soviet Russia was "virtually in control of the situation here as far as our ships are concerned."

He made the comment after hearing testimony of Frederick C. Phillips of New York that 80 per cent of the leadership of the National Maritime Union was communist and that "the other 20 per cent are afraid to open their mouths."

"Then the union is virtually under the control of the communist party?" Dies asked.

"Yes," was the reply. "Then you might say," the chairman continued, "that Russia has more control over the situation than the United States?"

"You might," Phillips agreed. "It seems to me that the Soviet Union is virtually in control of the situation here so far as our ships are concerned," Dies said.

"At the present time I believe so," Phillips replied.

Phillips Testifies
After Phillips, a former union official, testified that an attempt had been made to murder him because of his opposition to communism in the N. M. U., Dies urged him to present his case to the justice department. William McCusick, a preceding witness who related a similar story, complained to the department yesterday.

Asked by Dies whether a great deal of damage could be inflicted through the industry in event of war between the two countries, the witness said ships could be sabotaged to such an extent that the navy would be powerless.

Earlier, Dies asked justice department help in subpoenaing George Mink, described by a committee witness as a Soviet secret police agent in this country. William McCusick, self styled former communist, and former leader of the CIO's National Maritime Union, told the committee Mink could give orders to Earl

Treasury Considers 2-Billion Financing

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP).—Secretary Morgenthau said today the treasury is considering nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of financing before January 1.

The financing contemplated, the secretary told reporters, includes about $500,000,000 of "new money," borrowing of $1,375,364,200 of notes which will not come due until next March 15, and between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 of Tennessee Valley Authority borrowing.

Morgenthau said that the $500,000,000 of "new money," borrowing was wanted to pay for the deficit on regular governmental operations, in addition to the $258,000,000 which the treasury expects next week from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Assails Russia

A demand that the U. S. recall its ambassador to Russia because of Premier Molotov's criticism of President Roosevelt was made during the house neutrality debate in Washington by Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) (above) of Boston.

Heiselman Asks About Opponent's Interest in City

Where Was Candidate When the Industrial Meetings Were Held? He Asks Meeting

Mayor Heiselman spoke last night at the Republican rally in the Fourth Ward, which was filled to overflowing.

The mayor dubbed some of the issues which were raised by the Democratic candidate as so absurd and ridiculous as to be an insult to the intelligence of the voters.

For instance, the mayor stated that the Democratic candidate had announced for him that the High Road, leading from Hasbrouck avenue to Ponckhockie, would be closed if the mayor were elected.

"I have been mayor for many years and the High Road has not been closed. So far as I am concerned it never will be closed. We recently scarified and rolled the High Road and it is in good condition. We wouldn't fix a street if it were going to be closed, said the mayor.

The mayor continued, "I have no right under the charter to close any streets, open any streets or name any streets. The Board of Public Works first has to favorably act on such a proposal, and the Common Council has to vote on it. And, if I had ever favored such a thing as closing the High Road, I have had a long time to advocate such action, and I never have. This is another straw man put up by the Democratic candidate to catch a few stray votes in Ponckhockie, and it is nothing but political taff."

Mayor Heiselman, touching on the Democratic candidate's pre-election interest in the industrial life of the city, said, "When I first became mayor, in 1934, the city had lost over a million dollars in annual payroll because of factories closing up, some of them during the administration of the Democratic candidate. When I first became mayor, there were many vacant factory buildings in town. I ask the Democratic candidate, where are the vacant factories today? There are none. They have all been

Chamberlain Says Molotoff Disappoints Germany; FDR Comments on Soviet Speech

Roosevelt Produces Recent Soviet Statement Which Expresses 'Sympathy' for Peace Efforts

Copies Released

Reporters Receive Copies of FDR's Peace Plea to Fuehrer Hitler

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP).—Striking back indirectly at Russian Premier Molotov's criticism of his lending "moral support" to Finland, President Roosevelt has produced a six-months-old Soviet statement which focused capital attention today on American relations with Moscow.

Without explanation or comment, the White House reissued last night a cablegram from President Kalinin of Russia expressing "profound sympathy" for Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland and other countries. It was first made public in April.

The unusual action followed: White House speculation as to whether it was "purely coincidental" that Molotov's speech Tuesday came as the House was debating the neutrality legislation.

A demand by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) that the American ambassador be recalled from the "anti-God" Soviets.

Molotov, in a speech to Soviet deputies, had said that Mr. Roosevelt was "intervening" in Russian-Finnish negotiations "in contradiction of the United States' policy of neutrality."

He said also that if the United States repeated its arms embargo it would "intensify, aggravate and protract" the European war.

Embargo in Mind

Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, told reporters yesterday that it seemed to him that Molotov had the embargo in mind when he criticized the President.

A few hours later, reporters at the White House were given copies of the President's peace appeal to Adolf Hitler in April, a cablegram of endorsement from Kalinin and Mr. Roosevelt's acknowledgment.

The message to Hitler asked if he was willing to give assurances that Germany's armed forces would not invade certain nations. Among those listed were Poland, Finland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, all of which have figured in recent Russian negotiations for use of territory for Soviet military purposes.

Kalinin called Mr. Roosevelt "an expression of profound sympathy with the noble appeal," and gave assurances that "it finds most ardent response in the hearts of the peoples of the Soviet Union."

Shortly before Mr. Roosevelt dug up this correspondence, Rep. McCormack told the House that he "should be the answer of the United States" to Molotov's attempt to influence American public opinion. Germany and Russia, he asserted, were the "anti-God forces in the world today," and he added that the arms embargo offered them "practical aid."

Rep. Fish (R-NY) replied that the speech should have been made in 1933 when the United States recognized the Soviet government.

Newburgh Trial Is Set For Week of November 13

Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP).—Trial of the first of 70 defendants named in an investigation of Newburgh and Orange county has been set for the week of November 13.

Supreme Court Justice Ely W. Personius said first defendants will be John J. Coyle and Oscar G. Massie, local grocers, accused of conspiring to bribe Newburgh Welfare Superintendent John L. Sloan. Sloan also is under indictment.

Whisky Under Pulpit

Gaffney, S. C., Nov. 2 (AP).—Sharp-nosed policemen found 10 gallons of whiskey under a church pulpit and began wondering whether bootleggers had caches in other places of worship. They discovered three 10-gallon barrels of whisky atop another church and 10 gallons on a third church's roof.

What Russia Wants From Finland

Shown on this map are the principal areas involved in the latest Soviet demands on Finland. The seven major points: 1. Russians seek annihilation of the Rybachy peninsula, a key position in the Arctic. 2. In this area of Soviet Karelia, the Finns have been promised land to compensate for the area they may be forced to yield. 3. The Soviet asks for a strip of the Karelian Isthmus near Leningrad. 4. The border between Russia and Finland would be demilitarized. 5. Finns would give up a small strip of territory near the entrance to the Gulf of Finland, presumably near Hangö. 6. Russia seeks title to small islands in the Gulf of Finland. 7. Russia would withdraw objections to fortifications of the Aaland Islands by Finland.

What Heiselman Has Done For Youth Here

Supplementing the valuable work among youth being done by religious and character-building organizations, Kingston's recreation department supplies an important link in Mayor Heiselman's youth and recreation programs.

Mayor Heiselman has recognized that today's streets, with fast moving motor traffic, are not safe places for children to play.

To keep children off the streets, the Heiselman administration has established nine supervised playgrounds. There is one in every section of the city.

In July and August, thousands of children spend their summer vacations in these playgrounds where they are safe. Under competent supervision, they learn the rules of the games of play and the game of life.

Boys' clubs, the Saturday-boys' program at the Municipal Auditorium, and club activities at the Rondout Hobby House and Community Center are part of the youth program sponsored by the Heiselman administration.

With the aid of WPA labor, a park improvement program is now under way which will provide skating rinks, hand ball, shuffle board, tennis courts, Community Night stages and pavilions for all city owned parks.

The adult recreation program sponsored by the Heiselman administration encouraged more than a thousand adults to participate in softball play last summer. For the first time, 60 women participated on ladies' softball teams. Last winter 163 young men played basketball in city leagues, and this year, with the addition of the Catholic Church League, the number will be greatly increased.

Under this same leadership, cultural recreation activities are being developed in our community.

Family picnic areas have been created in various parks. More softball diamonds have been built.

Community Nights have been established in all parks.

One of the finest municipal stadiums in this section of the State has been built. Every effort has been made by the Heiselman administration to make the Athletic Field available for baseball and such efforts will be continued.

Mayor Heiselman has repeatedly and truthfully stated that the youth of today are the citizens of tomorrow.

He has insisted that it is the duty of government to do everything possible to encourage the building of strong bodies, clean minds, character, self-discipline and good sportsmanship.

Mayor Heiselman's recreation program has saved lives, improved health and morale, reduced crime and brought clean fun and enjoyment to many during the difficult years when they needed these things most.

The Heiselman playground program costs only $5,800 a year and the people get much for this investment.

Carey's playground expenditures amounted to $8,100 a year and the people got little for their investment.

Mayor Heiselman's recreation program pays big dividends in safety, character, health and citizenship.

Do you want this splendid program continued? If so, vote for Mayor Heiselman on Election Day.

Anglo Premier's Weekly Report Says Nothing Has Occurred to Shake Britain

Conference Opens

Delegates From Finland and Russians Resume Talks at Moscow

(by The Associated Press)

Prime Minister Chamberlain today called Russian Premier Molotov's foreign policy speech as a "disappointment" to Germany.

Making a weekly war report in the House of Commons Chamberlain said "nothing has occurred to shake our confidence" that the German submarine menace can be overcome and asserted Britain's war aims had been made amply clear.

The Greek government, meanwhile, announced letters (tributing to the preservation of peace) in southern Europe had been exchanged with Italy, a statement that followed Rome reports the two nations would sign a non-aggression pact.

Finland and Soviet Russia today opened another chapter in negotiations which form one of the many offshoots of western Europe's wailing war.

Decision Might Come

There were signs that a decision might be imminent on Russia's demands for military and territorial concessions from her neighbor.

Finland acknowledged Russia's right to strengthen the defenses of Leningrad, for which Russia wants a strip of Finnish territory, and to improve the Russian position on the Gulf of Finland. Where Russia is asking certain islands and a naval base on Finland's coast.

Though apparently ready to make some concessions, Finland indicated the Russian demands must be modified before the Helsinki government would accept the proposals which would give Finland a parcel of Soviet Karelia in return.

Russian-Nazi Cooperation

Russian-German commercial cooperation continued both in Moscow and Berlin where trade delegations were making arrangements for a huge exchange of Russian raw materials for German goods.

The German high command reported only "minor artillery fire" on the western front, where French military commentators predicted a long winter stalemate. Paris reported the shelling of the French town of Forbach.

The French commentators expressed the opinion that Adolf Hitler has been advised by his general staff to refrain from any offensive until next spring.

Netherlands' Step

The neutral Netherlands took another step she hopes will keep war away from her soil. Martial law was declared in strategic areas of eight provinces to check spying and facilitate defense if necessary.

Italian newspapers, after a long silence on the subject, reaffirmed the Italian-German military alliance in mentioning Premier Mussolini's shapely of cabinet and military officials last Tuesday.

One paper said it was only "wishful thinking" for anyone to see the shakeup as a sign of weakening in the Rome-Berlin axis.

Says She Was Cruel

Danbury, Conn., Nov. 2 (AP).—Dr. Nathaniel B. Selleck charged in his divorce suit that his wife, Mary Porter Selleck, was cruel to the point of employing slapstick movie tactics. Author Rex Stout testified that on one occasion while he and Dr. Selleck were playing billiards, Mrs. Selleck entered the room and hurled a freshly-made pie at her husband which struck him on the side of the face. The case is still pending.

Senators Are Told To Attend Martin Hearing Next Week

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP).—Senate leaders, foreseeing the end of removal proceedings against Kings County Judge George W. Martin by mid-November, insisted today on "every Senator" attending resumption of the hearing next Wednesday.

The order came from Republican Majority Leader Joe R. Hanley and Democratic Minority Leader John J. Duggan as the prosecution prepared to press the last of six removal charges accusing the jurist of being "influenced" in cases before him by "certain friends, favorites and recipients of his judicial patronage."

Before recessing yesterday until after Election Day, Senator Pliny W. Williamson, Westchester Republican, said that in the course of Martin's 19 years on the bench "considerable patronage has gone to friends, who, quite evidently, were not associated with the political organization of the county."

He requested Assistant Attorney General John Harlan Amen and Defense Counsel Martin W. Littleton to prepare "a list of this patronage," differentiating "that which went to his personal friends and that which went outside of his own personal connections."

The request followed a day of testimony in which the prosecution sought to show Martin "corruptly received gifts or presents of money" from his appointees and attorneys practicing before him.

A CLEAN SLATE

The Republican Party this year is conducting a straightforward municipal campaign based on Republican principles and policies. Mayor Heiselman, Republican candidate for mayor, is giving an account of his stewardship. His record is an open book.

Political mud slinging, name calling, insinuations and innuendoes have not been a part of the Republican campaign, but efforts have been made to present to the voters of the city, irrespective of party affiliation, the local issues in which there can be no misunderstanding.

The city ticket is an exceptionally strong one and deserves the support of every one having the City of Kingston at heart. The office of mayor is important to every resident of Kingston. It is an office that should be filled by an executive of proven ability. Mayor Heiselman and the Republican Board of Aldermen have given Kingston the best business administration the city has enjoyed in years. What Mayor Heiselman and the Board of Aldermen have accomplished in the past they can be depended upon to do in the future. The test of future performance is past deeds.

The county ticket is also made up of men who are capable of filling the position to which they aspire in a manner which will merit the approval of all. The retention of the Republican Board of Supervisors is of utmost importance. The economical and business administration of county affairs under Republican control of the Board of Supervisors is something for the county to be justly proud of.

For County Clerk, the Republicans have nominated Robert A. Snyder, prominent business man of Saugerties, and the present chairman of the County Board of Supervisors. Mr. Snyder is efficient and has excellent training and experience. He is eminently fitted for the important office of County Clerk.

N. LeVan Haver, the Republican candidate for District Attorney, has as his background a career which qualifies him for this position. His training and experience in the district attorney's office have given him a wide knowledge of the criminal law and its application.

The Republican Party has presented to the voters a clean slate from top to bottom. No mistake will be made by voting a straight Republican ticket.

WORK FOR HUMANITARIANS

It seems as if, every time Adolf Hitler has another triumph, the humanitarians of other countries have to go in and rescue the surviving victims. Americans are now asked by the Red Cross to help with the mournful job in Poland, along with the same organization in Britain and France. If Herr Hitler is ever interested in helping his victims when the shooting and bombing and burning is over, it has not come to public notice.

Naturally in such circumstances charitable Americans, while full of sympathy for the starved, sick and dispossessed populations, resent having such a duty thrust upon them. If armies must surge across boundary lines in cruel and ambitious conquest, common decency should move the statesmen responsible for them to take care of human derelicts they create. This vast and reckless cruelty visited upon great populations, after the manner of conquest in the Middle Ages, is the most obvious offense chargeable against Hitler and his fellow-Nazis in their reckless wars of conquest. Modern civilization was supposed to have risen above such barbarism.

Humanitarian democracies like ours, however, have to live up to their own ideals, and labor all the harder to help the suffering of other lands and preserve the ideals and decencies of modern civilization.

NO CARS FOR RELIEFERS

Relief clients who own cars must stop using them if they remain on the relief rolls, in some cities. Unless there are very special reasons for using the car, its license plates must be turned over for impounding.

There are two grounds for this action. One is the protection of the relief family itself. If some relief money is being spent for gasoline and other car expenses, it is at the expense of their food. An agency official explains that the relief budget is too small to take care of both.

Another reason is to reassure the general public that its money is being wisely, not wastefully spent. Indiscriminate use of cars by relief clients has been a source of many complaints against the relief system, WPA, and so on.

The public would be glad to see a little tightening up of restrictions in this regard, although it does not want relief clients to lose opportunity to work for lack of transportation to and from distant jobs.

Pity, too, the poor devils who have to operate those submarines.

So far, Davy Jones seems to be winning the war.

Civilization is making wonderful progress in the art of killing.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

 CAUSE OF FLATULENCE—GAS.

Until just a few years ago gas—gulping it up, or having it roll about in stomach and intestine—was thought to be due in all cases to the foods eaten—onions, cabbage, lettuce, peas, beans. More recently it was thought that in the great majority of cases gas formation and pressure was due to a sluggish liver and gall bladder. Many cases also are believed due to fermentation of protein foods—meat, eggs, fish.

It is now agreed that many nervous or excitable individuals, those who eat their food hurriedly, swallow quantities of air during meals and particularly if they use much fluid—tea, coffee, milk, or water—during meals. Dr. Walter Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, who for many years has done much original research work on the stomach and intestine, says, in Ohio Medical Journal:

"For reasons yet unknown, some persons swallow much air as they drink. A 'dry' dinner will sometimes give a much more comfortable night."

"Among the other common causes of flatulence—gas—are: food sensitiveness—being allergic to some particular food or foods such as eggs, wheat, berries; a plug of hardened waste matter in the rectum or lowest part of large intestine which forces gas back up into small intestine and even into the stomach; nervous excitement before, during and after eating; oil, which while lubricating the wastes, seems to cause gas pressure, and many substances added to laxatives in order to add bulk to the wastes." Despite the formation of gas caused by these bulky substances such as sugar, most physicians believe that this bulkiness distends the bowel and causes the muscles of the bowel to squeeze harder on the mass of waste and so prevents constipation. The bowel is kept in a better condition of health if its muscular walls have something that causes them to contract or squeeze upon the wastes. The walls increase in muscular strength by this work or exercise.

As mentioned before, if the gas from the stomach or bowel is without odor it is considered as being swallowed air. If odor is present, then gas is due to one or more of the conditions above mentioned—food-allergy, fermentation, plug of waste material.

What Can Russia Say Concerning Her Foreign Minister's Criticism Now of President Roosevelt?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 2.—Memories are short these days overseas, or else it may be that Foreign Commissar Molotov has not had time to familiarize himself with the job held by his predecessor, M. Litvinov. Anyway, what the White House has made public to show that the head of the Russian government, President Kalinin, called to President Roosevelt last April his hearty approval of American interposition of its influence for peace in Europe is not all of the record.

Excerpts from Soviet newspapers, inspired by the Moscow government, reveal that the entire Russian press was enthusiastic in its approval of President Roosevelt's efforts to preserve the independence and territorial integrity of Finland, Lithuania, Latvia and the Baltic states. Hence, it has astonished American officials to read the text of M. Molotov's remarks this week, in which he repudiates President Roosevelt for "meddling" when he sent a message merely expressing the hope that the peaceful relations between Russia and Finland would be preserved.

"Le Journal de Moscow" for April 25 last devoted its leading editorial to the reaction of the axis powers to the message of President Roosevelt. After stating that Mr. Roosevelt's message had already resulted in clarifying the international situation, the editorial said that the communication of the German government inquiring of several states whether they considered themselves menaced by Germany constituted in itself "a new menace on the part of Germany," while the reply of certain countries, "notably Lithuania, Belgium and Switzerland," indicated they did consider themselves menaced.

"The German communication," said the editorial, "proves the opportuneness of the intervention of the President and exposes once more the aggressive plans of the axis. Directed against Poland, which concern not only the question of Danzig, but also German plans considerably more vast against Poland."

Even before the German communication was sent and while the world was reading only President

Roosevelt's message to Herr Hitler asking him to declare his intentions toward 31 independent states of Europe and Asia, the same Russian newspaper on April 18 commended at once President Roosevelt's action, declaring he spoke with his "usual frankness and clarity" and commending him for requesting precise assurance from the aggressor countries "not only for the present but for the future as well."

The editorial, which, of course, could not have been published without the approval of the Soviet government itself, went on to say that, since the Soviet union has always stood for the preservation of peace and for the adoption of a clear and definite position in international affairs, "it is quite natural that the president of the supreme Soviet should have immediately welcomed President Roosevelt's message."

In the light of just about seven months' lapse in time, what can Russia say concerning her foreign minister's criticism now of President Roosevelt? Clearly, if Mr. Roosevelt was right in asking Herr Hitler to give assurances that he would not attack any smaller states in the border of Germany, it is not illogical for Mr. Roosevelt to address now an even more pointed communication to the Soviet government concerning its intentions with respect to Finland, or even the Scandinavian states.

Mr. Roosevelt's policy in offering good offices and expressing the hope for peace at critical times is in line with the precedents established by other American Presidents. The interests of humanity have prompted the government of the United States under Republican as well as Democratic administrations to use its moral influence to prevent the outbreak of war. Mr. Roosevelt last April merely sought to clarify the picture by getting assurances against aggression. Many persons thought the record for future history now has been written in indelible letters, not only revealing the readiness of Soviet Russia, also, to pursue policies of coercion and threatened aggression against her neighbors. Republican Candidates

DR. HARRY P. VAN WAGENEN

Dr. Harry P. Van Wagenen, the Republican candidate of the First ward to succeed himself as a member of the Board of Supervisors, is one of the leading members of the medical fraternity in Kingston, and is widely and favorably known, not only in Kingston but throughout the county.

Dr. Van Wagenen first became interested in municipal affairs when he was elected to serve the First ward as its representative in the Common Council. He served several terms and proved one of the most efficient representatives that ward had ever sent to the council.

Later Dr. Van Wagenen represented his ward in the Board of Supervisors, and is thoroughly acquainted not only with city but county problems.

In his younger days Dr. Van Wagenen was a student at old Kingston Academy, and later studied medicine at the Long Island Medical College where he received his degree.

During the construction of the Ashokan Reservoir he was in full charge of the hospital which had been erected to take care of those injured or who became ill while at work on this giant engineering project.

For a number of years Dr. Van Wagenen has been serving as a member of the staffs of both hospitals in Kingston.

MT. TREMPER

Mr. Tremper, Nov. 1.—The children had a Halloween party at the school on Tuesday with their teacher, Miss Snyder, as hostess. The children wore costumes and played Halloween games and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Kenneth Warren entertained at her home on Thursday afternoon in honor of the ninth birthday of her daughter, Leita Rae. Relatives from Kingston and Mt. Tremper attended.

Mr. and Mrs. George Byron and son, Richard, spent Friday in Kingston.

A Halloween party was held at the Mt. Tremper Inn Saturday evening. A large number enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Jean DuVosin. Music was furnished for dancing and refreshments were served.

The Eagle Tavern held a Halloween party Saturday evening. There was a number of guests present who enjoyed the evening's festivities.

Mrs. Burton Gardner, who has been at the Kingston Hospital for a few days is at home again.

Burton Gardner, who has employment in New York, spent Sunday at his home here.

Floyd Wilber and son, Clarence, of Kingston, were Sunday visitors at the home of Norman D. Wilber and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Vaughn of New Paltz spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Higgins.

The Welcome House had a number of city guests over the weekend.

The Grange meeting was well attended Friday evening. Several new members were given the first and second degrees. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Pine Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Redmond of Shandaken and Mr. and Mrs. Gies Tyler of Shandaken.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keiser of Brooklyn were recent guests of R. D. Howland and Elsworth Smith.

The Mt. Tremper Grange held a fun supper last Tuesday evening. The supper was served to the winning team by the losing team. A delicious meat loaf with potato salad, baked beans, cake, coffee and jelly with whipped cream was served and enjoyed by all. The Grange parties will be resumed for the winter. The first one will be held on the evening of November 13.

HENRY F. KELSCH

Henry F. Kelsch with four years of experience as a member of the Board of Supervisors behind him is again the eighth ward candidate for supervisor to succeed himself. He was the unanimous choice of the members of his party as he had proven himself an efficient member of the county board.

Supervisor Kelsch, who resides on West Pierpont street, is married and has two children. He has been a resident of the ward for the past 30 years.

When still a youth he became deeply interested in local firemanic matters and became a member of Rapid Hose Company, of which company he is still an active member, serving it for a number of years as financial secretary.

There are few men who are better known in the eighth ward than Supervisor Kelsch, and during the time he has served his ward in the Board of Supervisors he has always been active in county affairs.

Robert A. Snyder Is Eminently Fit For County Clerk

ROBERT A. SNYDER

Robert A. Snyder of Saugerties, the Republican candidate for the office of county clerk is offered to the voters of Ulster county as a man pre-eminently qualified for the position, not only through training and experience, but also as a member of a family which has served the county notably in public office.

A son of the late John A. Snyder, he was born in Saugerties February 12, 1904, and received his preliminary education in the Saugerties schools. Following his graduation from the Saugerties High School, Mr. Snyder matriculated at Dartmouth College and received his degree there.

After leaving college Mr. Snyder entered the employ of the Saugerties and New York Steamboat Co. and remained with them until the line went out of business, a matter of some half a dozen years.

As assistant clerk of the board of supervisors for several years, under the late Henry R. DeWitt, Mr. Snyder became familiar with the work of the county legislature and the affairs of the county generally and in 1935 was elected a member of the board from the town of Saugerties. In 1937, he was named to succeed himself and a remarkable tribute to the way he had conducted the affairs of the office was seen in that year the largest given to a candidate for office in the town of Saugerties.

This ability and popularity was further recognized when, at the meeting of the board of supervisors for organization, in January, 1938, Mr. Snyder was elected chairman of the board. That he has occupied the position with ability and fidelity is indicated by the fact that his party has now selected him to fill the very important office of county clerk.

Opinion appears to be pretty fairly unanimous that the support which has heretofore been accorded him will again be his at the coming election and that he will be elected by a large majority.

Despite the fact, however, that every indication points to his success at the polls, Mr. Snyder has been making an active canvass. So far as time has permitted he has visited all parts of the county, as he feels that not only are the voters entitled to meet their candidate, but that a wide acquaintance with his constituents will enable him better to serve them when he assumes the duties of the office.

For several years past Mr. Snyder has been actively engaged in the insurance business in Saugerties, having established an office there in 1933, where he

 Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

(Editors Note: Below are presented some questions and answers on the subject of the Vehicle and Traffic Law and rules of the road. Readers are invited to submit questions to Information Service, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Albany, N. Y.)

Q.—As a prospective trucker, I would like to know:

Q.—What the maximum width prescribed for a motor vehicle is?

A.—The width, including load, may not exceed 8 feet, except that vehicles with pneumatic tires and registered in New York prior to 1933 may have a width at the rear tires of 9 feet 10 inches, racks for carrying hay or unthreshed grain may measure 10 feet at the top of the rack and school buses may measure 8 feet 2 inches.

Q.—What is the maximum height?

A.—13 feet from the ground to the top of the load.

Q.—And the maximum length?

A.—For a single vehicle 35 feet from bumper to bumper including load, and for a combination of vehicles inclusive of load and bumpers 50 feet. Fire vehicles are exempt from the length provisions and vehicles of a corporation subject to the Public Service Commission or other regulatory body and which are used in the construction, reconstruction, repair or maintenance of its property or for hauling lines, poles or girders, may exceed the limit for combination vehicles.

Canada is the heaviest exporter of macaroni, spaghetti, and vermicelli to the British market. Of a total of 113,934 cwt. imported by the United Kingdom in 1938, Canada contributed 61,761 cwt.

Walter Smith and Wingate Hart went to West Point to see the football game last Saturday.

Pictures of the school children were taken last week and are now on display in the post office.

Lawrence Miller moved to Kripplush last month.

The fourth grade is making a large map of the world. On this map they are locating the different countries they visit during their travels in geography.

The third grade is studying farm life. They are divided into three groups and each group has made a different kind of farm on their sand table.

On Friday, November 3, there will be no school as the teachers are going to New York city to a teachers' conference.

Tuesday afternoon each room had a Halloween party at which time they played games and had refreshments. The primary room had some interesting costumes.

The staff of the fall number of the "Star" has been elected and is beginning to work on the paper. The editor-in-chief is Dennis Williams; the news editors are Edna Countryman and Elizabeth Stoothoff; the mimeograph editors are Edna Countryman and Elizabeth Stoothoff; the mimeograph editors are Edna Countryman and Elizabeth Stoothoff; the mimeograph editors are Edna Countryman and Elizabeth Stoothoff.

The Mothers' Club will hold a harvest dance in the firehall, Saturday evening, November 25, for the benefit of the dental clinic. The club will hold its next regular meeting in the school library, November 9 at 3 o'clock. At this time the final plans for the dance will be made.

Intelligent, efficient and with excellent training and experience, Mr. Snyder, proving as popular in his candidacy for county-wide office as he has been in his home town and there is no question but that his majority will be a flattering one.

Rumania Rich In Resources

Fuel for Machines and Food for Humans Produced in Abundance.

WASHINGTON.—Rumania headlined again by the news of the assassination of her premier and the execution of hundreds of Nazi sympathizers that followed, holds a key position in the turbulent affairs of the Balkan peninsula with her rich resources of oil and grain and the polygot mixture of her population.

"Fuel for machines and food for humans both spring in abundance from Rumania's soil, and access to them is of first importance to many nations," says the National Geographic society.

"Within the confines of the country, about the size of Arizona, live some 18,000,000 people, but nearly one-third of them are non-Rumanians. The 13,000,000 Rumanians trace their ancestry to Roman colonists who intermarried with the inhabitants of the region. The other 6,000,000 includes Germans, Jews, Hungarians, Bulgarians, Russians, Yugoslavs, Czechs, Slovaks, Poles, Armenians, Greeks, Turks, Tatars and gypsies.

Big Powers Interested.
"Germany, France and England all recently have been displaying interest in Rumania through trade agreements or political negotiations, and one of the chief reasons for this interest is oil. Rumania is second only to the U. S. S. R. as a European producer of oil and other petroleum products.

"During the World war, when German armies overwhelmed Rumanian defenses and took over a large part of the country, the Rumanian oil wells were wrecked and workmen capable of repairing them evacuated. The industry has been rebuilt, and Rumania now is sixth among the world's oil-producing nations.

"Grain comes next to oil on the list of raw materials that make Rumania important. Americans would feel at home in many parts of the country for they would see broad acres of Indian corn, introduced from the New World. Corn has become the staple food of the Rumanian peasant, eaten in a form of mush.

"Wheat, on the other hand, is an important crop in northwestern Rumania, in Transylvania, acquired from Hungary after the World war of 1914-18. Besides grain, Rumania supplies timber to the international trade. Salt is mined in the north near Bucovina, from deposits worked by the ancient Romans. Zinc, copper, iron and lead are other mineral resources. Sheep and cattle are exported.

Germany Best Customer.
"Germany took the largest proportion of Rumanian exports, about 26 per cent, in 1938, with Great Britain second, while Czechoslovakia, before its dismemberment, was third. A third of Rumania's 1938 imports were from Germany. In return for raw materials, Rumania's industrialized customers send her manufactured goods, machinery, steel, rubber and automobiles. American trade with Rumania is of minor importance.

"Rumania acquired about half of its heterogeneous population and nearly two-thirds of its present territory as a result of treaties after the World war of 1914-18. Many of the 'foreigners' have retained their national customs, resulting in numerous alien 'islands.'

"Trade, especially in northern Rumania, is chiefly in the hands of the nearly one million Jews. More than a million and a half Hungarians and nearly a million Germans live in western and central Rumania. In the northern and eastern sections are about half a million Ruthenians, 100,000 Russians, the same number of Turks and 200,000 Tatars.

"East meets west in Rumania. Mosques, minarets and fountains give the appearance of a Turkish town to Balcic, a port on the Black sea. In regions of Rumania adjoining Bulgaria have settled about 300,000 Bulgarians, and the same number of gypsies form a colorful foreign element. Many of the gypsies are actors. Some sell flowers in the cities, while others roam the country as musicians, occasionally accompanied by trained bears. Brain, the home town of the writer of gypsy tales, Conrad Bernovici, is one of the oldest gypsy settlements."

Australian Wilds Getting

CANNBERRA.—Civilization has dropped from the sky upon one of the most isolated sections of Australia's northern territory.

The "farthest outback" air service has been inaugurated between Alice Springs and Wyndham. Although the route covers 1,000 miles the region has fewer than 150 inhabitants, and they subsist almost entirely on canned foods. To the 14 stopping places along the route the air service will take fresh fruit and vegetables once every two weeks.

The airplane will also operate a flying-doctor service. The region will be surveyed to see which parts can be developed for farms, cattle, and mines.

Down to Last Auto
Beverly Hills, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP)—Chico Marx was down almost to his last automobile today. Fire destroyed three automobiles belonging to the member of the Marx brothers comedy team. The actor and his family were away from home, presumably in a remaining automobile, firemen said.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Nov. 1.—Crosby Wilkin has broken ground for a new house which will be erected on the land he purchased of Mrs. Perry DuBois.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins of Walden are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son, born October 21, at S. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh. He has been named Charles Henry. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are former residents of this place.

Several from here attended the turkey supper at Walden last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heide, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton attended the fair and turkey supper at Modena on Thursday evening, October 26. Mr. and Mrs. Heide observed their 40th wedding anniversary on that date and Mr. and Mrs. Powell their 35th.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tears of Poughkeepsie were visitors at the home of their mother, Mrs. M. L. Birch, Sunday.

Willis Evans of Skaneateles has been visiting at the home of his sister in this place.

Hallock Sutton and grandson, Matthew Gummerson, of Walden, were callers at the home of his sister Saturday.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Tysse and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell attended the ordination and installation of the Rev. Ike Meyer as minister of the Brick Reformed Church in Montgomery Friday evening.

Mrs. Josiah LeFevre and Mrs. Rufus Jenkins of New Paltz were callers in this place Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. Tysse and children spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mrs. Tysse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, at Accord.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Booth and son were callers at the home of Mr. Booth's sister, Mrs. Mary Thomas, in Clinton, Sunday afternoon.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Dennison Saturday afternoon, November 4. Miss Bertha Sutton will be the assistant hostess.

The Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. George Van Wyck Thursday afternoon, November 9, at 2:30 o'clock. Subject, "One Fold and One Shepherd." Leader, Miss Mary Cocks. Roll call, Verse from Thanksgiving hymn.

Holy Communion will be observed in the New Hurley Church on Sunday morning, November 5, at 11 o'clock, in charge of the pastor. The sacrament of baptism will also be observed.

Blind Folks Now Enjoy

Plays in Their Homes

NEW YORK.—Blind men and women throughout the country have now the opportunity to enjoy the best that the Broadway theater has to offer, and enjoy it in their own homes. This announcement has just been made by the American Foundation for the Blind, New York city, the national organization of which Helen Keller is an officer. Plays acted with full Broadway casts are now recorded by the American Foundation for the Blind as "talking books." These "books" consist of albums of recorded discs resembling phonograph records. They are played on a portable reading machine devised so that blind people can easily operate them by touch.

Thanks to the co-operative arrangement between the American Foundation for the Blind and the Library of Congress, the 130,000 blind individuals in the United States may enjoy the "talking books," which now include full-length acted plays, without the slightest cost. The "books" are placed in 27 regional libraries across the country which operate departments for the blind. Packed in stout cartons they travel to and from library and reader postage free.

Among the distinguished players who have acted for the enjoyment of blind listeners are Eva LeGallienne, Mady Christians, Bert Lytell, Whitford Kane, Wesley Addy and Dame Sybil Thorndike.

The foundation supplies the reading machines at cost, but blind people who cannot afford to buy one may borrow one for an indefinite period from the Library of Congress, which lends them through the various state commissions for the blind.

Japanese Educator Will

Simplify Printing Types

TOKYO.—Only 3,000 characters are needed to express everyday thoughts in good Japanese, according to Professor Onishi of Hosei university. He says that 80,000 characters are in everyday use, but that in 92 per cent of the cases 3,000 different ones practically cover the field. He will soon publish a dictionary of these characters, which he hopes will supersede all similar lexicons. He holds that the 1,850 ideograph list compiled by the education ministry of Tokyo is too short, while half the 7,000 characters usually found in ordinary printing shops are practically unused. It is his idea that the type in use can be reduced to 3,000 and that the saving in labor and expense will be enormous.

Hague Says He Was Chief Problem Child in Jersey City And Thus Easy on Cut-Ups

Browder, general secretary of the communist party in the United States, and that he was the "power behind the scenes" in maritime work on the west coast.

McCuiston, taken into police custody Tuesday in connection with a New Orleans slaying, said he believed Mink is on the west coast.

Subpoena for Mink

Dies directed Rhea Whitley, committee counsel, to confer with the justice department about a subpoena for Mink.

McCuiston resumed his testimony today, committee counsel asked him about a number of persons described as figures in the labor movement.

The witness contended Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, had appointed as union agent at Port Arthur, Texas, a man named Party and a former organizer for the cafeteria workers of some such union.

While McCabe was an organizer for the latter organization, McCuiston said it was discovered that there was a shortage in the union funds and that he had been "a little too personal with the union members, who were all girls."

After McCabe was removed as organizer for the cafeteria workers, and had obtained less than six months experience at sea, the witness continued, Curran appointed him agent at Port Arthur but the membership rebelled against the appointment.

Before testimony started today, Dies predicted that the administration would do everything it could to block his request for a two-year extension of the committee inquiry. He added that, on a record vote, not 10 members would vote against it.

Referring to McCuiston's complaint to the justice department that he had been threatened and beaten for turning against communism in the maritime union, Dies asked whether he ever had been attacked in Port Arthur.

"They tried to dump me there but I came out about as well as they did," McCuiston replied.

Low Wages Hit

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—A concentration of wage-hour enforcement activities in areas of low wages and long working hours was forecast today by Lt. Col. Philip "Hemine," who took over direction of the wage-hour administration 10 days ago. "Our efforts to enforce the law," he said in an interview, "should be concentrated on the areas having the largest number of workers, who have been getting less than 30 cents an hour or working more than 42 hours a week."

A recent survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics showed that the bulk of such workers were situated in the south and the industrial states of the northeast.

Journey Is Resumed

Bucyrus, O., Nov. 2 (AP)—A giant snow cruiser today resumed its lumbering journey from Chicago to Boston, where it will become a major piece of equipment in Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's expedition to the South Pole. The cruiser, held up four days after plunging off the highway into a ditch, probably will stop tonight at Akron, where new parts are to be picked up.

Prisoners Blamed

Kaunas, Lithuania, Nov. 2 (AP)—Lithuanian authorities today blamed 2000 recently released prisoners for rioting which broke out in Wilno yesterday when crowds outside bakeries learned bread prices had been tripled. Many shops were looted before police restored order.

Turkey Supper

The ladies of the Flatbush Reformed Church will serve a turkey supper in the church hall this evening beginning at 5:30 o'clock.

More people are killed in the course of farm work than in any other industry.

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Tolerance for juvenile delinquents was urged today by Mayor Frank Hague as he recalled his youth as "chief problem child in Jersey City."

The state Democratic leader and vice chairman of the Democratic national committee said, however:

"I don't encourage boys being disruptive and breaking into stores. I don't want my enemies to say Hague encourages that. But I'll be d— if I'm going to destroy boys for making a mistake."

His remarks were made at a meeting at which John Prout was installed as co-leader of the Seventh ward last night.

Remarking that school teachers bring boys before principals as truants and call them problem children, Hague tapped his chest and said "Listen, here was the chief problem child in Jersey City."

When he told how four 14-year-old boys stole an automobile in a "nearby county" and authorities said they planned to send the quartet to reformatory even though they took the car only for a "joy ride."

"Why," said the mayor, "they did what I did thousands of times."

As one of eight children in a poor family, Hague continued, he stole candy, oranges and apples.

Juvenile Delinquency Plamed for U. S. Crime

Placing the crime cost in the United States at $15,000,000,000 a year and declaring that a losing war is being waged against it, Superior Judge J. M. Golden told the Northern California Mental Hygiene society recently that juvenile delinquency was primarily responsible.

"Social and scientific treatment of juvenile offenders in order to cope with the crime problem," he said, "is one of the most serious problems confronting American life today."

"It is definitely clear that we must get at the roots of the causes of crime and take steps to eradicate them, if we hope successfully to tackle the problem."

He insisted that it is not enough to punish the criminal; that punishment, in reality, accomplishes little, and cures nothing.

"We must prevent the commission of crime to the utmost possible extent," he declared, "and this we cannot do unless we exercise supervision, social and scientific, on the youth of the land. And this must be done at the first time a boy or girl shows the need for such supervision."

"For the moment the most discouraging and terrifying phase of the problem is that the large increase in juvenile offenders is principally responsible. It is plain that we are not meeting the problem by the present methods."

Judge Golden declared that the first step toward new and effective methods must lie in teaching the abnormal or problem child how to meet the strains and stresses of everyday life as he grows into manhood.

"It is a question," the judge asserted, "that must be approached from a medical, social, psychological and psychiatric standpoint."

"To this end, institutions, sanitariums and penitentiaries, both human and mechanical, must be provided. Psychiatrists, sociologists, social-service workers, dentists and physicians must co-operate with courts and district attorneys at the first sign that a child is a source of worry to his parents or his teacher."

"All of this will cost money, but it will cost less than what crime is now costing the United States."

Water-Wheel Power

Water-wheel capacity in world plants has risen from 23,000,000 hp. in 1920 to 64,000,000 at the end of last year, an increase of almost 180 per cent. The U. S. is first in developed water power, with 17,949,000 hp. installed capacity; Canada is second, with 8,191,000. In the countries having abundant water-power resources the electrical output of the wheels is greater per horsepower installed than in those resources that are not so great.

Rabbi Arrested on Charge Of Failure to Pay Help

Arrested in New York yesterday by city police, on a warrant charging violation of Section 43 of the Penal Law, a disorderly conduct charge, Rabbi Jacob Bienenfeld, 51, of 167 Chambers street, New York city, was brought to Kingston yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Brown and O'Brien. Later he was arraigned before Justice William C. Weyman, who held him for a hearing this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Bienenfeld is charged with failure to pay help at a camp at Cold Brook last summer, with which he was connected, it is alleged, under the name of Myron Morris. He is also said to be the same man who was concerned with a camp near New Paltz a year or so ago and which got into difficulties.

The trend toward streamlining autos began in 1910.

Name Commission To Weigh Claims Of Creek Damage

Justice Harry E. Schirick has named as commissioners of appraisal to head Esopus Creek damage claims remaining unheard, Emil A. Gunther, of New York city; George F. Humphrey, Rensselaer attorney, and Peter G. Myers of New Paltz. The commissioners were appointed to succeed the old commission, which under the law, expired last month. This commission was appointed some time ago to hear claims arising out of the use of the upper Esopus as an open aqueduct to convey Gilboa waters to the Ashokan.

Many of the claims for damages and also payment for a right in perpetuity to use the creek have been heard and awards made by the old commission. There remain several claims to be heard among them the disputed claims of the New York Central railroad, which the railroad claims, were not included in former applications for damages.

The order of appointment was filed today, Henry R. Bright and John Egan appeared for the city of New York on the application.

A single grapevine in Rosebud, Tex., covers the entire side of a building and is half a block long.

Man Dies in Fall

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—A man identified by police as Otto Alden, 48, assistant secretary of the Bank of New York in Wall street, fell to his death today from the 25th floor of the Hotel New Yorker. The body landed on the fifth floor extension. Hotel officials said the victim had registered only 48 minutes earlier. Police made the identification from papers found on the body.

Where Was Democratic Candidate?

"During my administration, many conferences have been held in my office and the city court room in an attempt to stimulate industrial growth. These meetings were attended by some of the representative men of the community. I will mention just a few: Allan Hansen, Morris Senter, William C. Kingman, Harry Kaplan, William A. Van Valkenburgh, William O'Reilly, Edward T. McGill, E. Frank Flanagan, James A. Dwyer, Harry B. Walker, James Rowe, Matthew V. Herzog, William Hardenburgh. These meetings were open to anyone who desired to give a helping hand toward getting industry for Kingston. Where was the Democratic candidate then? He has had plenty of opportunity to come forward during the past six years, but he remained silent. Why is he so vocal now, a week before election? You tell him.

"The truth of the matter is that, as the result of the work that was done along industrial lines by those who helped, the empty factory buildings have been filled, and employment is definitely on the increase.

"Speaking about employment, there was a certain matter, most important to the welfare of Kingston and its people, and which had great possibilities for the employment of many men, which was recently publicly discussed and which the Democratic candidate never expressed the slightest interest in. I refer to the recent public hearing which I called in the city hall for the purpose of seeking advice from the people of Kingston concerning a plan for the elimination of the grade crossings of the West Shore Railroad. Here is something most important to Kingston; here is something that would give many men jobs. But where was the Democratic candidate then? Did he attend the public hearing? He did not. He took no interest in it whatever. And yet, now, a few days before election, he strives to create the impression that he is vitally interested in the many matters that affect the city and to which he has heretofore during the past six years, paid no attention whatsoever. You decide why the sudden interest on his part."

I find that the Democratic candidate is following the same policy he used in his 1931 campaign, but with not the same degree of success. He is promising jobs and other things.

A great many who fell for the Democratic candidate's promises made during his campaign in 1931, and who were left in the lurch in 1932, are not falling for the same line in 1939. They have learned during the past six years that the only things that count are performances, and they are all caught up on promises.

The Democratic candidate's campaign has fallen as flat as a pancake, run over by a ten-ton steam roller.

The only issue in this campaign is whether the people of Kingston have good, sound, humane government under our administration.

The people know the facts. They know the candidates. I am willing to abide by the decision they make on election day."

Other Speakers

Other speakers at the rally were Schwenk, Lucasewski, Tubby, Robert Snyder, Assistant City Judge Mino, Attorney Vincent Connelly, Fred Tubby and Frank Leirey.

Leirey Talks

Mr. Leirey, a former supervisor and alderman of the Fourth Ward, said that he had spoken to a number of people in the Fourth Ward, that they all agreed that Mayor Heiselman was a plugger for Kingston; was on the job every minute and was honest and hard-working. They agreed that Mayor Heiselman was a good mayor, even though a few did not agree with everything he did."

Mr. Leirey urged the voters of the Fourth Ward to continue the good government for which Kingston and Ulster county was known throughout the state, by voting the Republican ticket on election day.

Central Business Men's Banquet November 14

Tuesday evening, November 14, has been the date set for holding the 11th annual banquet of the Central Business Men's Association, which will bring to a close the membership drive which is now underway by the association.

The banquet will be held in the Hotel Eichler on Railroad avenue at 6:30 o'clock. Mayor Heiselman, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin will be among the guests at this annual event.

Every year the association conducts a membership campaign and the drive now on is being held for the purpose of topping all previous membership totals.

Negro in Hospital Following Battle In Laborer's Shack

Benedictine Hospital where his condition today was said to be fair. Water works police were summoned and later Sheriff Molyneux went to the scene as did Trooper John Metzger of the B. C. I. At the direction of District Attorney Cleon B. Murray the officers made an investigation and Wynn was held for a hearing before Justice Slutsky on Wednesday when an adjournment was taken until Friday pending a report as to the condition of Henderson.

Both men are employed by Ottaviano & McDonald Construction Company which has a contract for a roadway in connection with the water works project at Lackawack.

Henderson was brought to the Benedictine Hospital by James Barton and Frank Fuller who were at the shack at the time of the alleged assault.

Other men in the shack said that Wynn had threatened to do further injury to Henderson and only through their restraining acts was more serious injury averted.

Soldier's Medal Awarded To Three West Pointers

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—The War Department announced today award of the soldier's medal to three West Point cadets for heroism in rescuing another cadet from drowning in the Hudson last May 28.

They were Cadets Victor S. Zienowicz, Ludlow, Vt., William N. Holm, Minneapolis, both members of the first class, and Charles S. Brice, Jr., Fort Monroe, Va., and a second classman.

Zienowicz and Holm saved one of two cadets whose canoe capsized. Brice, one of the two in the water, risked his life trying vainly to save his companion.

California Is Losing Its 'Hillbilly' Population

California's hill population is rapidly declining, according to Ian O. M. Brook, assistant professor of geography at the University of California.

This decline in the "hillbilly" population, he said, was taking place despite a steady increase in population throughout the state.

"The passing of the old hill family and many of its descendants," he said, "is due to the decline in lumbering and range operations, decline in the birth rate, the competition of valley and rural communities.

"These combined with the fact that California has a low birth rate, as compared with the country as a whole, have brought about the phenomenon of lower population in the uplands, while population in the lowlands is increasing."

As a result of this situation, he declared, a high number of schools in the hill country have been closed, not because of the establishing of consolidated schools for several formerly independent districts, but because the number of children has so decreased that even the required minimum of five for each district cannot be maintained.

"The situation has become so marked," he said, "that certain counties in the hill districts are obliged to depend on migration to maintain their present population."

Moisture Penetration

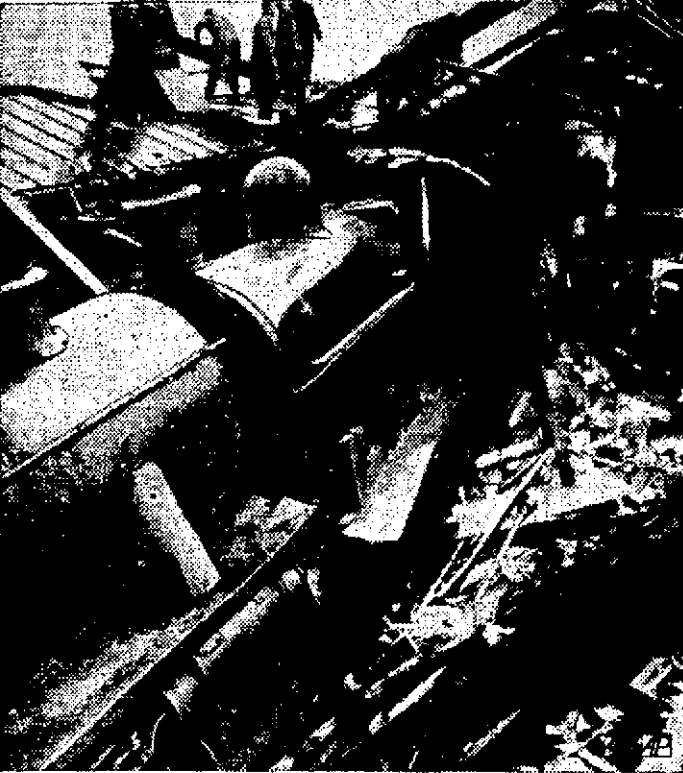

With the question of moisture penetration into the framing of structures becoming more acute with the advent of modern heating and air conditioning, many builders are advising the use of insulating fabrics or materials which seal the walls against penetration of moisture vapor. Under modern systems of heating and air conditioning it is estimated by commercial engineers that relative humidities are increased from as low as 5 per cent to as high as 50 per cent. This moisture passes readily through plaster and other structural materials until it reaches the dew-point temperature and then deposits in droplets. In side walls this moisture may settle to the bottom of the section, drenching the entire framework. Such condition causes framing to warp and twist, distorts interior woodwork, and frequently blisters paint.

Luther D. Aydelotte of Buffalo isn't homesick any more. Aydelotte, reared on a peanut ranch in North Carolina, planted three hills of peanuts last May in his backyard. He has dug up three good-sized plants with dozens of ripened peanuts clinging to the roots. He plans to set out about 50 hills next year.

Orders to Western Union

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company has been ordered by the National Labor Relations Board to disestablish its association of Western Union employees as a bargaining agency and reimburse employees for dues deducted from pay envelopes since July 5, 1935. The board order, issued last night, was based on a finding that the 20-year-old association was "supported and dominated" by the company.

Highland Druggist Becomes Tradition Among Village's Children With Candy, Horns

Highland, Nov. 2.—Aside from the ghosts and goblins and inevitable witch on broomstick, Halloween seems to lack a significant figure with the appeal of Santa Claus for children.

Ghosts and goblins, of course, are too ethereal to be anything more than background for the occasion and witches never have been known to possess any graciousness.

One man in this village, however, for 17 years has been something of a tradition and to most of the younger children he bears a kinship to St. Nick. He is George P. Muller, proprietor of a local drug store and this year, more than ever, the celebration of Halloween was virtually centered about him.

It all began when some of the village youngsters on a Halloween night 17 years ago suggested, "How about some candy?" Mr.

S. Salem Woman Dies in Flaming Wreckage of Cars

Lewisboro, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Sadie Merriman, 55, of South Salem, perished last night beneath the flaming wreckage of two automobiles involved in an accident on the New Canaan-Ridgefield road near the Connecticut line.

Morris Dinee, 28, of South Salem, by whom Mrs. Merriman was employed as housekeeper, was critically injured, and was taken to the Danbury Hospital. The driver of the second car, Henry G. Knobel, 23, of New Canaan, Conn., escaped with slight injuries.

Lieut. Leo F. Carroll of the Connecticut state police said Mrs. Merriman was standing beside an automobile which Dinee had halted because of engine trouble when it was struck by a machine driven by Knobel. She was crushed beneath both cars which burst into flame.

Amos O. Squire, Westchester county medical examiner, was called and immediately opened a preliminary inquest.

Mrs. Merriman leaves a son, Walter, of New Canaan, and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Rogers, of Norwalk, Conn.

Two Men Killed In Plunges Down Face of Palisades

Fort Lee, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Two men lost their lives yesterday in plunges down the Palisades on the western bank of the Hudson river.

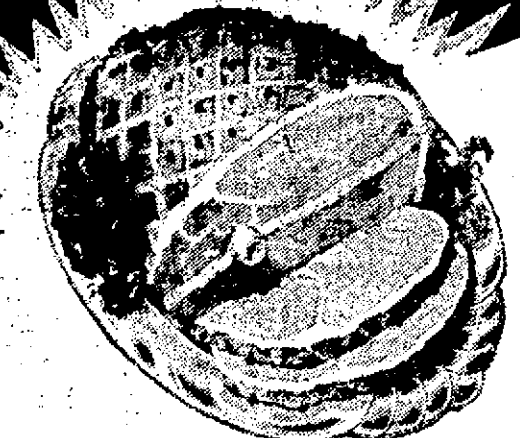

An unidentified man was battered almost beyond recognition in a fall down a 200-foot sheer cliff last night, Captain John B. Clark of the Interstate Park police said. The man's body was found one-half mile north of the George Washington bridge by Paul Zimmerman, manager of the park camp at nearby Ross' dock. He had not been dead long, Clark said.

The man was fairly well dressed, between 45 and 50 years of age and had $1 and two keys in his pockets, the captain said.

Earlier Frederick Breit, also known as Bennett, 55, of 470 East 31st street, Paterson, was found lying at the foot of an 88-foot cliff in Edgewater. He died several hours later in Holy Name Hospital, Teaneck, from a fractured skull and other injuries.

Cabinet Maker, 71, Exhibits Drawings In Brooklyn Show

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Life begins at 71 for Israel Litwak, who took up art because he "didn't want to sit around and wait to die" after losing his job as cabinet maker. Tomorrow the Brooklyn museum opens an exhibit of 36 crayon drawings by its "new discovery," who is blind in his right eye and who never took a painting or drawing lesson.

Bewildered by the recognition that has come so late in life, Litwak explained today, "It happens like this. When I fall out of work because I'm too old already, I try to do something to keep me busy. I'm used to being active, not just to sit and wait for the last day to come and die. So I start to make drawings."

Litwak was born in Odessa, Russia. He came to the United States in 1903 with his wife and two children. His wife died in 1921. The children grew up and made homes of their own. The demand for his cabinet work began falling off and finally, he was out of a job.

He began drawing. Slowly, his sketches became better. Then he completed two and took them to the museum.

"The genuine naïveté" of Litwak's drawings won the praise of Laurence P. Roberts, museum director.

"If only this had happened earlier, when I was younger," Litwak said.

MODENA

Modena, Nov. 2—The committee of Ladies' Aid Society members who will serve a Virginia baked ham dinner and oyster supper in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall on Election Day, Tuesday, November 7, is as follows: Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, chairman; Mrs. Archie T. Mackey, Mrs. Harry Paltridge, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, Mrs. William Doolittle.

The regular monthly clinic of infant and pre-school children, conducted by the Public Health Nursing Center, of the town of Plettskill, will be held Tuesday afternoon, November 7, in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

The Modena Home Bureau unit will hold the first card and game party of the season on Monday evening, November 13, at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Black's home. Mrs. Joseph Hasbrouck and Mrs. Lester Arnold are co-chairmen of the affair and are assisted by a committee of local Home Bureau members.

The community of Modena will be 200 years old in 1940, and it seems fitting that a celebration be made to commemorate the historical event, wherein religious and social organizations combine. Irene Burden, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Burden of New Paltz, has returned home after spending the past summer with her aunt, Mrs. Lillian Rhodes.

U. S. Debt Tops 41 Billion — Just Four More To Go

Before America's entry into the World War the national debt stood well under two billions. Two years of war shot it up to more than 28 billions. In the next decade it sank to a little over 16 billions. But four years of depression drove the debt beyond the war level. Three years later it stood at 36 billion. Then on October 27, 1939, it passed the 41 billion mark. The treasury's borrowing limit is 45.

Y.M.C.A. Work Is Appreciated

"The Y. M. C. A. has fortified our belief that righteousness does not stand alone," says Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in a 50th anniversary message to the international committee Y. M. C. A., according to a letter received by Robert L. Sisson, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. "During this period of our bitter resistance, the Y. M. C. A. has set in motion its organization to participate in all kinds of relief work. Its courage and its earnestness have won the admiration of both our people and our soldiers," said the generalissimo.

He is one of a list of 200 religious, educational and economic leaders, from the United States and abroad, who have taken this occasion as sponsors to show appreciation for work which the Y. M. C. A. of the United States and Canada have pioneered in 32 countries during the last 50 years.

Today marks the 50th anniversary of the departure of two Americans for foreign lands—David McConaughy to Madras, India, and John T. Swift to Tokyo, Japan—to launch for service for youth which has been extended to 32 countries by more than 350 Americans.

During the year ahead the 1,290 associations in the United States will pay homage to pioneer secretaries and to those who now serve abroad, some under danger to their lives in Europe and Asia. "The generalissimo's statement continued: 'The Young Men's Christian Association is generally recognized throughout China as one of the agencies working for the welfare of our people. Since its inception in this country a few decades ago, it has made valuable contributions toward enriching the life of our people. It has successfully promoted athletics, popularized public health, advanced popular education and wholesome amusements as well as opportunities for social contact. It has been successful in stimulating the spirit of cooperation and mutual assistance, and is fostering in our youth the habit of public service. These are qualities which we desire most. In the promotion of the New Life Movement in the past few years I have realized more fully the significance of the preliminary foundation the Y. M. C. A. laid for us.'"

Watson for Repeal

Indianapolis, Nov. 2 (AP)—James E. Watson, once leader of the Republican majority in the U. S. Senate, said here today on his 75th birthday he was for repeal of the arms embargo. "This is the first time I've agreed with the President," the ex-senator said, "but this thing is bigger than partisanship. The fundamental proposition now is to keep our boys on this side of the water."

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wess

YESTERDAY, Michael catches Miss Lissey furtively searching the woods with a magnifying glass. She angrily denounces him for "spying" on her, and tells him to find out about a gray hat left at McBain's the night Murchison went away.

Chapter 23 Talk With McBain

IT IS possible that Michael would never have acted on that strange hint of Miss Lissey's had he not determined in any event to take Dr. McBain into his confidence. Here was the man who must have in his possession knowledge to clear up a great deal of the mystery surrounding Edgar Murchison if only he were so inclined: a man who had already shown that he was kindly toward Murchison, level-headed and fair-minded.

At dusk that evening Michael lifted the knocker on the McBain door.

McBain himself answered the door, in slippers and smoking jacket, the inevitable pipe in his hand.

"Come in, come in," he said heartily, holding out a welcoming hand. "It's good of you to come."

"Thanks," Michael replied. "I hope you're not busy. I want to have a talk with you."

McBain led him into a small comfortable room on the right, a man's room, with deep chairs and an air of untidiness. The newspaper was spread open on the table and part of it lay on the floor.

"You'll see how busy I am," his host said with a smile. "I was just having a smoke and finishing the paper."

He indicated a chair with a wave of his hand, and Michael sat down.

"I'll come right to the point," said Michael, and looked across at McBain, who put his pipe in his mouth, crossed his knees, and glanced up inquiringly. "You'll remember I asked you several questions about Professor Murchison the night of the Deane's party?"

"Yes," he smoothed down the fringe of hair on each side of the high white forehead. His eyes were deeply attentive.

Michael hesitated. "I'm afraid I was doing something not quite polite," he said. "I was... well, I was pumping you."

"Pumping me?"

Michael leaned forward and clasped his hands between his knees. "That business about the women," he explained, "I hadn't heard anything I was looking for information."

McBain frowned. The wrinkles at the side of his strong face deepened. "You had some purpose, I suppose?"

"Yes," he paused again. "Did it ever occur to you, Dr. McBain, that it was rather queer of Professor Murchison, whom you knew so well, to leave as he did without a word of farewell to you, or an explanation?"

McBain raised his eyebrows. "It did," he said quietly.

"Did you ever ask his wife, or his brother, where and why he had gone?"

"And what did Duncan say, may I ask?"

McBain looked at him directly. "Before I answer that I should like to know just what you are getting at, Forrester."

"I'm sorry. I should have told you... well, plainly, it's this. The Professor did not go away on a business trip. He disappeared, and no one knew where he went."

"Surely, that isn't possible!"

"Well, it's the truth,"

McBain was thoughtful. "Then that may explain what Duncan meant," he said half to himself. "I was a bit puzzled."

"What did he say?"

"He said... 'You'll have to ask his wife for the answer to that question... and I don't suppose she'll tell you.'"

"Did he seem content, or what?"

"He was angry. But... I suppose there's no harm in mentioning it to you... he and his sister-in-law have never gotten along any too well. They're both hot tempered. I put it down to a fit of pique. You say she doesn't know where her husband is either?"

"No."

"You had something of that in mind, then, when you spoke about his interest in women?"

"Yes. The only explanation that seemed to fit the facts would be that of his having gone off with some other woman."

McBain shook his head. "No. I shall never believe that possible. He wasn't that sort."

"You're still sure of that?"

"Positive. Do you mind telling me... have you any definite reason for thinking of such an explanation?"

"Do you mind if we come to that later? There are a lot of things I'd like to ask you first."

"Anything I know is at your disposal," he said grimly.

"Well, then, can you remember when you saw Edgar Murchison last?"

"I walked home with him from the University on the afternoon of the day the University closed. He must have gone that night or early the next morning."

"Did he seem disturbed about anything?"

"Not at all. He was a bit pre-occupied, but nothing more."

"About what?"

"I do not know—unless it might be money matters."

"Money matters?"

"His wife's extravagance was a continual source of worry to him. He mentioned that, I remember, that he would need to work all vacation to keep ahead of the name."

"He had a considerable bank balance?"

"Possibly, but she planned an extensive holiday, I believe. This was not said in so many words, you know. I knew him pretty well—it was merely from word here and there that I gathered this."

"You never heard him mention any property, valuable property?"

"That he owned? No. Although—let me see... No."

"Why did you hesitate?"

"I realized that I was mistaken as soon as I spoke. His wife corrected me unconsciously the other night."

"How, Dr. McBain?"

"Happy At First."

"You wouldn't have noticed, perhaps. It was in regard to a diamond necklace—Mrs. Deane questioned her about one. I was rather under the impression that those were diamonds, and if that is so, they must have been Murchison's property. His wife was penurious when he married her. He told me that once. But she said quite frankly that her necklace was not diamonds, so I was wrong."

"Had he told you of owning any diamonds?"

"No. But I saw the necklace in question on Christmas Eve, and once or twice previously. I certainly took the stones to be diamonds. My wife and I spoke of them to each other, and wondered privately how he managed diamonds on his income. However, I was wrong."

"You say his wife was penurious. How long had they been married?"

"Five or six years, I believe."

"They were happy?"

"They... they seemed happy when they first came."

"But not later. What caused the break, Dr. McBain?"

"He ran his long sensitive hand nervously over his head. 'I dislike this personal material,' he said."

"It may be very important."

"Well, then—it seems to me I noticed a rift after the Devoes came. He did not like them, and as they were her relatives, it made matters rather unpleasant."

"How does it happen that her cousin came to this University? It looks like a coincidence."

"I believe that Murchison was instrumental in getting him the place."

"He had known Devoe previously, then?"

"No. I think not. His credentials were good, and Mrs. Murchison spoke so highly of him that when the opening was made known, Murchison recommended Devoe."

Michael considered for a moment, then looked up with an air of decision. "I'll tell you the whole story," he said frankly, "and perhaps you'll be good enough to tell me what you think of it. And with that he told Michael of the letter which had come to the police regarding the Professor's disappearance, the Commissioner's idea that he, Michael, by living on the campus might get close to the strange mystery; of, finally, the discovery of the diamonds, and of the sheaf of letters which had been in the box with them. McBain listened in absolute silence, looking up once or twice, but never interrupting, never speaking until Michael came to the end of his recital. Then "You actually found these diamonds?" he asked incredulously.

"We did. Had them tested by an expert today, and they're the real thing. He values them at fifty thousand dollars, so they've stored them away in safety deposit vault at Headquarters until we find out to whom they belong."

He leaned back in his chair. "Who would be your choice for the writer of that letter, sir?" he asked, his eyes on the other man's face. "The letter about the diamonds?"

McBain frowned. "I don't understand it," he said in bewilderment. "Diamonds—the letters? Edgar Murchison. Actually, Forrester, it all sounds perfectly preposterous and most unbelievable. Why, the man's a friend of mine... an intimate friend! This can't be true, this riddle of romance you're telling me."

"Nevertheless, it is," said Michael dryly. "And it's just as inexplicable to us. I can assure you."

McBain got up and paced the floor. "Who wrote the letter, you say?" he muttered to himself after a moment. "God knows. If they're Murchison's diamonds... how about his wife for a guess?"

"Why should she write it? If she wanted to know, why didn't she ask it, ask help in finding them. She denies that she possessed any! No, she didn't write it."

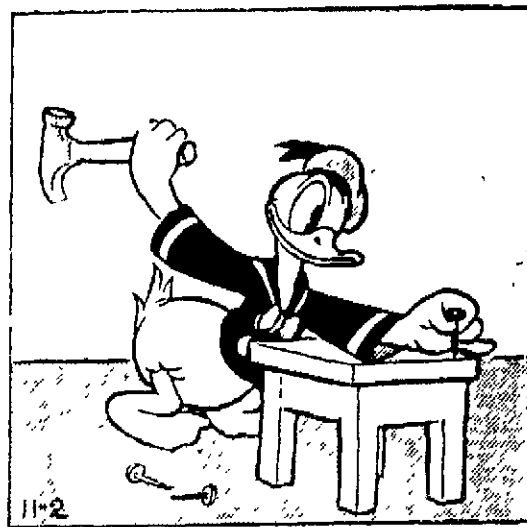

"Then it must be someone who knew of them, yet who was afraid to show a hand in the business... By Jove!" he said suddenly, and stopped short.

"Yes?"

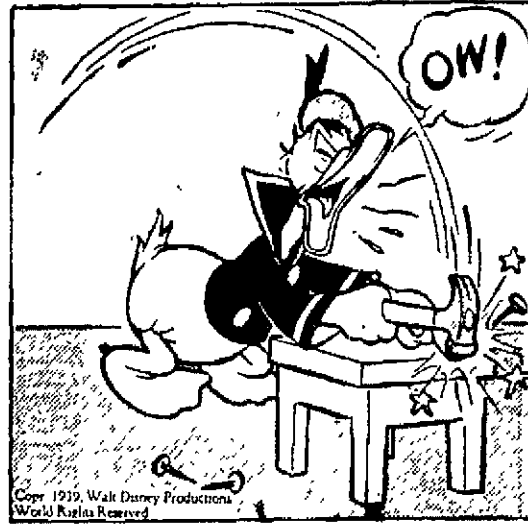

McBain's brow was dark. "That woman," he said angrily. "It sounds like one of her tricks. Trying to cause trouble as usual, knows something and doesn't quite understand, and goes springing about until she satisfies herself. Miss Lissey, I'd be willing to swear, is your letter writer."

Architect Says U. S. Projects Are Disgrace

Clinton, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Frank Lloyd Wright, famed architect, thinks federal resettlement is making "the slums of tomorrow out of the slums of today."

Wright told a Hamilton College audience last night government housing "is nothing more than skyscrapers laid on their side" and said that "ten years from now it will be a disgrace to live in them."

"If you can subsidize the landlord," he asked, "why can't you subsidize transportation and get these people out into the open where they can have some ground of their own and freedom to use it?"

Wright said that the government housing "is nothing more than skyscrapers laid on their side" and said that "ten years from now it will be a disgrace to live in them."

Six-Year Plan

Mexico City, Nov. 2 (AP)—A six-year plan for Mexico, which includes a proposal for complete nationalization of the petroleum industry, today came before the nation's dominant political organization, PRM, or the Mexican Revolutionary Party, on the second day of its three-day convention. The six-year plan will be followed if the party's candidate should succeed President Lazaro Cardenas in the election next July. PRM's candidate probably will be 42-year-old General Manuel Avila Camacho, former war minister in the Cardenas cabinet. PRM's power at the polls has not been tested seriously for years.

In Buffalo firemen of Engine 4 didn't have to go far on this alarm. It was across the street. They turned in the alarm themselves, attached their hoses to a convenient hydrant, and walked across the street to work.

Rotarians Are Told Racial Variations Are Not Important

If people of the world would learn to appreciate and have at least certain forms of fellowship with those of other races, their attitude toward them would be much different, the Rev. Russell H. Damstra, pastor of the Church of the Comforter, told members of the Kingston Rotary Wednesday at the weekly luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel. He added that it was a flagrant criticism to label a whole race because of a few examples. Mr. Damstra spoke on "My Philosophy of Race," saying that a part of one's philosophy of life ought to be a philosophy of race. During his teaching experience of a year in Honolulu he had come in contact with people of many races—Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiians and others—and some of his reflections were based on his experience there.

Equality of Existence

As the first plank in his philosophy the speaker made the statement that all races, as well as men, are "created equal." He explained that he meant equality in the sense that all had a right to live on this earth, to seek happiness and prosperity.

Regarding claims of superiority, it was stated that all races make such a claim and it might be well to state in just what particular superiority is supposed to exist. Thus, it was suggested that most men would hesitate to claim superior physical ability over Joe Louis. As to mental superiority the speaker noted that in his seminary class two students from India led in mental ability, while during his stay in Honolulu it had been his experience that it was usually representatives of oriental races that walked off with the highest prizes. "If members of different races 'started from scratch,' on the average they would reach the same stage of development," said Mr. Damstra. "What we are is largely a matter of environment and inheritance," he declared.

It was held that geographical location had much to do with characteristics of certain peoples. Thus the Dutch, who had to fight for their very existence and push back the ocean for much of the land they occupy, were notoriously "stubborn." Much the same reasons accounted for their thrift, yet it was noticeable that under different conditions, the second or third generation was found to have largely lost its thrift.

Definite Contribution

Each race was seen as having a definite contribution to make to human history, which indicated a providential purpose. The different races serve as balance wheels, said the speaker; "they act as checks on each other and in this country provide the greatest safeguard to democracy." He found that nature seems to compensate for certain lack in any one race; "it doesn't favor one superior race."

In concluding he declared his belief that races can get along together; that animosity and hatred are artificial. He had found that to be the rule in Hawaii and said that among children of different nationalities or races there were no distinctions or difficulties except as the children were "egged on" by their parents or others and made to believe that certain distinctions existed.

Before Mr. Damstra was presented Joseph J. Morgan told Rotarians of some of the difficulties of Rotary International today. He said that in Germany and Italy Rotary had been taboo for some time. In other countries affected by the war the clubs were doing their best to carry on under difficulties and trying to assist members who had been called to the colors. One club, in Strassburg, had been forced to discontinue meetings because of the location of that town in the war zone.

Apple Sauce Cake

Here is a recipe for applesauce cake that is worth trying:
2 cups flour, sifted
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon Maple
1/2 cup shortening
1-2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup chopped raisins
1-3 cup walnut meats
1 cup hot strained apple sauce
Sift flour, soda and spices. Cream shortening and sugar. Beat the eggs, add to shortening and sugar. Add raisins, nuts, walnut meats. Stir in dry ingredients alternately with apple sauce. Bake in greased layer pans in moderate (350 degrees F.) oven.

Farm Bureau Gets Canvass Started; Supper on Nov. 22

The Farm Bureau membership drive is well under way with almost 300 memberships received by mail, it was announced today. The personal solicitation has started and will be completed by November 22, when a county-wide check-up supper will be held in Kingston.

The chairman of the 18 organized communities have direct supervision of the membership campaign, assisted by nearly 100 committeemen. The officers are particularly gratified at the unusually fine response by mail. This indicated an increase in the 1940 Farm Bureau membership over the 1939 high total.

The programs have been arranged by the four county commodity committees and only need the approval of the board of directors. Numerous new activities are being planned to serve the farmers of Ulster county.

Blackouts in Rome Found 'Different'

Is Dark at Night but Lacks Other Precautions.

LONDON.—The Roman topography remains unscarred by sandbags and safety shelters and the Romans behold with amazement pictures of these things as they are in London and of the crowds of urban children seeking the country, according to the Rome correspondent of the Sunday Times. He adds that, "to the warning of the ministry of popular culture for people to go to the provinces, little attention was paid at first and later none at all."

As to the Berlin-Rome axis, he says, "one never hears the phrase, which on account of its solidarity being emphasized a few weeks ago in every paper has produced an augmenting abnormal condition in the public mind." This he analyzes as follows:

"Rome is now darkened at night. Some of the street lights have been replaced by dim blue globes. The others are not lit. Cars and buses have blue headlights and dim lamps inside. They grope around the streets in silence—motor horns are not allowed in Rome.

"Here is a curious offshoot of these precautions. We are seeing the great ruins of antiquity at night without the disadvantage of artificial light for the first time in the memory of this generation. Many people have been attracted to them and awed by their strange beauty.

"The strangest contrasts arise. Trains are running regularly between France and Italy, and letters and papers come through without delay. The international telegraph also functions, but slowly and only in French. But only official telephone calls can be made, and there is no plane service with France.

"On the other hand, London can be reached easily by telephone, and as late as Thursday (September 7), to my knowledge, business men were enabling to London in code. Imperial Airways planes are still going through, although they are making a wide detour.

Puerto Rico Scents Atmosphere of War

Military Messages Decoded And Then Burned.

SAN JUAN, P. R.—There is a cell in one of the offices at general headquarters in Puerto Rico lit by electric lights and occupied by a tall, thin signal corps sergeant. He emerges from his concrete and windowed compartment with a portable incinerator two or three times a day. He takes the incinerator out onto the balcony and stands over it while having a private and well-controlled bonfire.

His job is to burn code messages from the United States war department after he has decoded them. Outside the barred door sits a signal corps major, Uncle Sam's uncommunicative communications officer in the Caribbean area. It would be as easy to get an Eskimo to write a letter in Chinese as to get either the major or the sergeant to discuss military plans for Puerto Rico.

Go along the hall and talk to any of the other members of Brig. Gen. Edmund L. Daley's staff and you will get the same wartime stare. If you want to hear the military jaws snap shut, drop in and ask one of these officers to expand upon the contents of a radio report from Washington announcing that troops are en route to Puerto Rico.

You can go all the way down the corridor and talk it over with General Daley. He is a congenial and approachable general who is humorously frank. "If it comes to us in code, it is secret. The message is decoded behind that barred door. If they want to release it in Washington, that's up to Washington," he tells newspaper questioners.

"As a matter of fact," he continues, leaning back in his chair, "it is war as far as I am concerned. We are getting into the swing of it." Then he teeters forward and laughs. "Probably if I did know the answer to your question I might give you a misleading reply. You will probably find out more about what is going on here in Puerto Rico by going to Washington than by coming to see us up here on the hill."

China Sets Up Cultural Units to Combat Japan

CHUNGKING.—Gen. Ku Chu-tung, commander of Kiangsu and Chekiang and parts of Anhwei and Gansu, has formed an organization of economic and cultural committees to combat Japanese plans to finance the China campaign by utilizing the resources of the occupied areas, it was revealed here.

Financiers, reconstruction executives and educators are serving on the committees, Chinese reports said.

The economic group is mapping out plans to increase agricultural production, store foodstuffs and clothing and heighten the efficiency of transportation as well as to purchase and control economic resources of the war areas.

The committee also will readjust currency, promote trade and develop light industries.

Duties of the cultural committees will be to edit and publish reading material and to open and maintain schools.

Lincoln Handkerchief? New Owner Checking Up

DANVILLE, ILL.—The authenticity of a strip of handkerchief, purported to have been in the pocket of Abraham Lincoln on the night of his assassination, is being checked by Thomas Noone, local resident, who recently came into possession of it.

He is also checking the validity of a copy of the New York Herald dated April 15, 1865, containing details of the tragic death.

Noone, amateur collector of historical relics, bought both articles from a former Danville resident named Maines, who said he received them from his mother-in-law, a Mrs. Phebus, a nurse.

Mrs. Phebus is said to have been in attendance when Lincoln lay on his deathbed.

Old Souvenir Hatchet of Washington Treasured

BEARDSTOWN, ILL.—One of the souvenir hatchets distributed when George Washington was elected President is a proud possession of George Tosh, local grocer and gasoline station owner.

Originally the hatchet was a Tosh family possession but in 1789 it passed to the hands of a family named Jordan, which kept it for more than a hundred years, the last to own it being Louis Jordan, who put it back in the Tosh family when he gave it to the Beardstownite.

Woman, 96, Cautions Girls to Slow Down

HARTFORD, CONN.—Mrs. Flavilla Topping, celebrating her ninety-sixth birthday anniversary, advised the modern girl to "slow down."

"Girls today live too fast. They smoke, drink, and go in for spectacular clothes.

"I have never done any of those things, nor have I ever tasted liquor. And that is why I am alive and well at 96."

In Utica last spring E. Herbert Smith acted on a hunch; now he's reaping the profits. Smith planted 40 varieties of gourd seeds on some of the land he usually devoted to melons. The drought cut his melon crop from an anticipated 900 bushels to 200 and also hit his tomatoes, but Smith harvested more than 100 bushels of gourds.

Scenes at Yearly Halloween Festivities

Local Hospital Auxiliary Meets

An unusually large group attended the meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Tuesday afternoon. After the regular business a communication from the secretary of the 1939 class of graduate nurses was read, acknowledging the pleasure and gratitude of the class for the dinner party at the Coq d'Or recently given them by the auxiliary.

The recent death of Mrs. J. Spottiswood Taylor was announced, the members standing for a moment of silence in respect to her memory. The late Mrs. Taylor was an active member of the auxiliary until the time of her fatal illness.

Mrs. Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the sewing and cutting committee, requests those individuals and organizations desiring sewing to do for the hospital to telephone her at 478 and articles will be delivered.

The resolution or amendment to the by-laws adding a corresponding secretary to the present list of officers, was read for the second time and the nominating committee, of which Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer is chairman, presented the name of Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier, who was unanimously elected to the office.

The annual mid-winter dance will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel February 3. Mrs. Kenneth B. LeFever and Mrs. John B. Krom were appointed to the music committee.

One new member, Miss Josephine Giffredi, was present. Refreshments were served by Miss Jessie P. Allen and Miss Almira Porter at the social hour which followed.

The first auto to cross the U. S.—in 1901—took 61 days for the trip.

He Was Listening

Boston, Nov. 2 (U.P.)—The master of ceremonies of an informal comedy-type early morning program at a Boston radio station (WBZ) glancing from his studio window, announced to his radio audience that he could see a parking lot attendant loading beside an unusually dirty car and suggested the man ought to get busy. Not until the attendant leaped into action, grabbed a sponge and went to work, did the announcer realize the man had been listening to his own program on the automobile radio.

Clear Up Old Bills By Wise Budgeting

Have Money for Extras

"Paid!" A magic word to have stamped on outstanding bills. Little wonder this booming couple are sold on the idea of budgeting.

Here's the way they now get along well on a small salary, since a budget guards their income.

They resolved never to pay more than a week's income for rent. The money thus saved will take care of household replacements. But they won't charge a rug and a coffee table at the same time, trusting to some windfall to pay for them.

The commissary department also underwent a change. On a dollar a day they set a good table, enjoy little luxuries, too. Buying foods in season, watching for meat "specials" accomplished that.

Clever to think of your entire wardrobe when buying accessories. A dark blue bag, shoes go with gray and rust as well as blue costumes. Such smart buying keeps your clothes allowance within the necessary 10 to 12 per cent of your income.

Learn how to spend, how to save for what you want most. Our 32-page booklet tells how to apportion your income. Advices on buying, as well as saving. Use its special ruled pages for a year's record.

For Economy, With Flavor, Try Oven Meals

It's Time-Saving, Too,
To Cook Everything
At One Whack

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

Those tantalizing aromas floating from the kitchen tell that a baked meal is under way. Oven meals, which seem to retain all of the natural food flavors, are money and time savers—most of the meal can be prepared in one cooking and often the main course can be served in the baking dish.

Baked meat loaf is a good starting point. Use your own recipe, mould it and put it into a roaster. Cover, and bake the loaf 30 minutes. Then surround it with peeled white potatoes, carrots and

CASSEROLE NEW ORLEANS
1 can condensed chicken gumbo soup
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup chicken, diced
1 cup ham, diced
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
Cut chicken and ham into quarter-inch dice. Combine cooked rice, diced chicken, diced ham and chopped pimiento. Add the chicken gumbo soup. Mix and put into a buttered casserole—one large one or five individual casseroles.

PIEAPPLE-RING TOP
5 slices pineapple
15 whole cloves
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
Arrange pineapple rings on top of the rice mixture. On each ring sprinkle 1 teaspoon brown sugar, dot with 1 teaspoon butter, add three whole cloves. Place the casserole in a moderate (375 degrees F.) oven for 15-25 minutes until thoroughly heated and pineapple rings are glazed.

turnips. Over the loaf spread a mixture of 1/3 of a cup of catsup, chili sauce and pickle relish, and pour in half a cup of boiling water to speed cooking of the vegetables and help brown them. Bake 35 minutes more.

For a ham loaf, substitute for the catsup mixture a blend of crushed pineapple, cooked apricots, a little lemon juice and brown sugar. For fish, use mustard pickles instead of the other toppings.

To round out a loaf meal, serve

This casserole dish has a New Orleans basis and a Hawaiian top.

a casserole of creamed cabbage, some muffins—bran or whole wheat—and a dessert of baked pears. With a hot beverage and a light salad or a tray of relishes you have as good a dinner as anyone could ask for.

Here's a good meatless oven meal: Macaroni and cheese, squash, corn bread and apple pudding. Top that with a fruit salad and a beverage.

Or base a dinner on a cheese soufflé. Its baking partners can be sweet potatoes, glazed pineapple slices, biscuits and date pudding. Serve a cabbage salad and a hot beverage with that combination.

The ultimate in oven dinners is one based on a roast. Pick your roast and then cook these with it: Escalloped tomatoes, squash, biscuits or rolls and an upside down fruit dessert. A tray of relishes, a good gravy and plenty of hot coffee and you're right out in front.

In this, you cook the main part of the meal in one dish. Select your largest casserole. Dip pork or veal chops in flour and sprinkle them with seasonings. Arrange them in the casserole and cover them with sliced raw potatoes mixed with flour, seasoning and butter. Surround with peeled onions, scooped out and stuffed with corn or soft seasoned bread. Add 1/2 inch of water. Cover the casserole and bake 1 hour in a moderate oven. Uncover during the last 15 minutes of cooking to brown the top. Bake with this any fresh or canned fruit and a cottage pudding. Serve the pudding with a fruit, caramel or chocolate sauce.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Triple Trouble

Fairland, Ind.—Trouble, trouble, trouble.
Mrs. Harve Arnold and a daughter were injured slightly in an automobile accident October 19.

The next week, her son, Troy, fell out of a tree and was hurt so badly a leg had to be amputated. Yesterday, the Arnolds' house burned down.

Expedient

Louisville, Ky.—This seems to be the height of something or other.

Harry Bloom, Louisville Times columnist, said a woman shopper asked her friend, "why don't you drive into this free parking lot?"

"I don't intend to buy anything from that store," the friend replied.

"Oh, that's all right. Charge something and bring it back the next day. I do it all the time."

A Hunting We Go

Wapato, Wash.—Bruno Von Der Heyden brings down his game the humane way.

While he was hunting with W. C. Clement their dog pointed two pheasants. Von Der Heyden caught both with his hands.

Later he had to quit hunting when he snatched his third bird from a hedge fence.

Rescue

Denver—City Forester Joseph A. Bixby lassoed an infuriated coyote which attacked a wire haired terrier.

The coyote turned on Bixby and inflicted painful arm and leg lacerations. The terrier scrambled to safety unharmed.

Old Faithful

Benkelman, Neb.—Ted Maranville is mighty proud of his 12 gauge shotgun.

The stock is made out of an old wagon tongue, the sight from an old curtain rod.

But with the trusty weapon, said Ted, he killed three big geese, out of a flock of nine, with a single shot.

Just Napping

Minneapolis—A police car shrieked to a grade crossing after residents of the neighborhood had reported a man slumped over the wheel of a car. Officers found him as reported.

He had gone to sleep waiting for a freight train to pass.

Dairy scientists at the New York state agricultural experiment station are renewing tests in the use of corn sugar in frozen desserts. Noting market improvement in the color, quality and flavor of corn sugar now on the market, the scientists see possibility of substituting it for at least a part of the 100,000 tons of cane sugar imported annually by the ice cream industry. "By substituting a small amount of corn sugar for cane or beet sugar," Dr. A. C. Dahlberg, head of the station dairy division, pointed out, "the possibility of the two sugars is increased and crystallization does not take place."

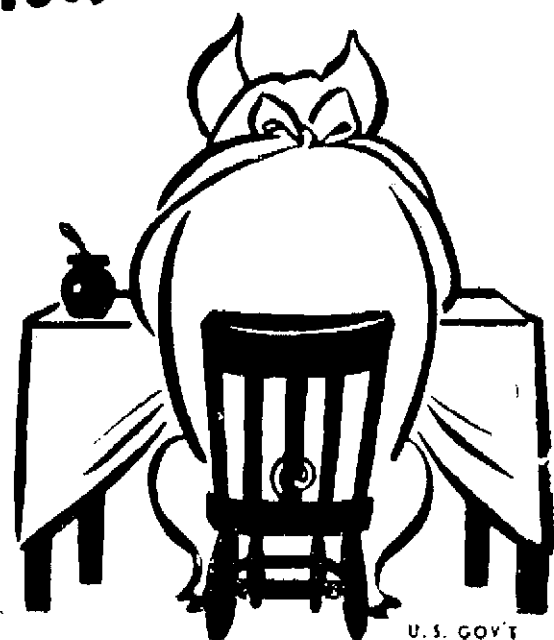

Irregular, sprawling penmanship is no indicator of artistic tendencies or embryonic greatness in the opinion of Dr. A. M. Skeffington of St. Louis, director of the Buffalo Graduate Clinic Foundation for research in optometry. Instead, Dr. Skeffington believes, uneven penmanship is "probably nothing more than defective vision."

Eugene B. Carey Speaks At 7th and 8th Ward Rally

The following speech was delivered by Eugene B. Carey at the Jewish Hall, corner Wurts and Spring streets, November 1, at a joint Democratic rally of the Seventh and Eighth Wards:

I have made, so far, in this campaign three prepared speeches which have been published in both 'The Freeman and The Leader.' Those speeches were prepared with care and discretion. Yesterday and today I had no time whatsoever to prepare a speech for this rally. So I came down here tonight unprepared and in order that my address to this rally is published as I spoke, we have with us a stenographer who is taking down every word I say, so that copies of my address can be handed to both papers and my story carried to the public.

Before coming to the public at St. James M. I tried to think about which I would talk. I pondered at tonight's Freeman and, after reading Mayor Heislman's speech, I decided that I would take as the theme of my talk this evening the last paragraph of his speech. And I want to say, his speech was made in the run on the corner of Franklin and Furnace streets before a gathering of about 15 people who followed him to the corner in their own cars. His words were "I am not here to win, I am here to help." So far in this campaign, of a blind man hunting in a dark room for a black cat that isn't there. Now before I go into that, when he mentions the "blind man" it recalls to me that in the year 1929 the State Legislature passed a bill at my suggestion to Senator Weeks and Assemblyman Davis giving a yearly pension, payable monthly of $300.00 to every blind veteran of the World War in the state of New York.

Now, I might ask where was Mr. Heislman in those days and did he forget his duty for the people then as it does now? I also ask where was Corporation Counsel Cashion in those days and was his interest for the people of the city of Kingston as sincere then as it is today?

Now, going back to the theme, I know a dark room, a real dark room in the City Hall that is filled with black cats and with my eyes shut I made a trip to that room. I opened the door and in I went amongst the black cats. I found one black cat and as I rubbed its fur, it said, "Gene, my name is Unpaid Tax Collector. I am mad at you because you did away with me." Another black cat came up to me and said, "Gene, my name is Two Part Payment. I am very much contented and very glad you changed the income of my life and put me here. Another black cat came up to me and said, "My name is Laboratory. They call me Lab for short. I am glad you were the one to call in Dr. Frederick Snyder, Dr. John F. Larkin, Dr. Joseph Jacobson, Dr. F. W. Holcomb, Dr. C. L. Cannon to care for me. Since you left the City Hall, the WPA built me a new home. Mr. Heislman did not do it, the WPA did it by money sent here from Washington. And then another cat came up and said, "My name is Convention. They call me Con for short. When I came here with the N. Y. State Horticultural Convention, I liked the city so well that I stayed. And then another cat came up and said, "Gene, my name is Auditor. They call me Aud for short. Even though you did not make my coat of fur so nice and shiny, you took me under your wing when the county was ready to give me up in 1932. I remember Mr. Elting and Bob Greaves said, 'you could have me for nothing'."

Another Black Cat
Then another black cat came up and said, "My name is Insurer. They call me Self for short. I am getting thinner every day because they are drawing on me and I have no reserve to keep me up." Another cat came up to me and said, "My name is Millions. don't spread the news but the city of Kingston owes me a million and a half dollars. I'll keep the taxpayers broke paying interest to me." And still another cat came up to me and said, "My name is 431. I am the amount he increased the debt of the city in the past six years." And still another cat came up to me and said, "My name is System. I represent the pledge you made to the people in 1931. I spend most of the day in the city treasurer's office and the treasurer and clerks, as well as the public, love me. My finances were never in order until you were my mayor. And then another cat came up to me and said, "My name is Bolly. My real name is Boulevard."

I remember how in 1932 that you took me in as a sick and ailing pussy and agreed to make me well. When you were sick and away from the City Hall, Connie Heislman "pinched" me for you and finished the job, but if you hadn't picked me up, I would not be here today. And still another cat came up to me and said, "My name is Music. I am nothing but skin and bones. You put something in the budget to provide food for me but since Heislman came here I got nothing. I can hardly raise my voice." And still another black cat came up. "My name is Extended. Remember you nicknamed me Agony. I am the $220,000.00 in bonds Connie issued two, three and four years ago. I will be here a long time and in 1944 will be the most expensive cat in the city. I expect to turn into a beautiful silver fox." And then across the room came a big, black cat, he said "My name is Anticipated Revenue. Don't I look like $300,000 more than any of the others?" Finally a lean cat came to me and said, "My name is Industry. They call me Dusty for short. Connie promised to take good care of me but has picked me up only once since he came here eight years ago." And then another cat came in. "My name is Raw. I was brought up on certified raw milk for years. I got it from you but after December 15th of this year I will die for the want of it." Finally a big white cat came up and said in a grating voice, "My name is Johnny, number 398. I was brought in from the front leg. Though I still linger in this dark, black room, the people pay for my keep. It costs them more to keep me than any other cat. That is because my color has been changed, having been away from these other cats so long."

As I opened the door to leave, a ray of light came in. I saw a box that looked like a phonograph. I looked closer and saw it was and a dusty record was on it. I wound it up and it played, "Vote American in 1938 by Conrad Heislman." That's my story and my reply to Conrad Heislman as to my searching in the dark for a black cat that I couldn't see. I know where the dark room is and, with my eyes shut, I could wander about it.

In the Freeman tonight he asks me a few questions. He has all of the records of my administration at his command in the city hall. I ask him to search the records and reply himself and tell the people what he finds.

I am down here as a guest of the people of the Seventh and Eighth wards and I ask Conrad Heislman who put the pool in Cornell Park. I say it was built during the Carey administration. Perhaps he can find the record different. Many of the things instituted and proposed or started in 1932 and 1933 could not be accomplished with a day's work. That is why many of our proposals were completed in 1934.

Visits to Downtown Section
During the past two weeks, Mayor Heislman, Alderman-at-large Schwenk, and Corporation Counsel Cashion have made a number of visits to the downtown section of our city. Last night Mr. Elting came down to bolster up their weak forces. I ask them all why they don't come down to Rondout every week of every year, as Gene Carey does, on a friendly charitable or welfare mission, going into the homes of the poor, the sick and the destitute to give aid and assistance? The only time they come down in the Rondout section of the city is a few weeks before every election day, with political, personal and selfish motives.

I ask Mayor Heislman again where are the industries he promised the laboring man and the business man? Where is the carriage factory he promised in 1935 would locate in the Ulster & Delaware building on the Strand? It is a well known fact that there are many men in Kingston staying at home and caring for the children while the mothers or wives are working in factories. Mayor Heislman has had opportunity for the past six years to carry out the promises he repeatedly made in his four previous political campaigns. Why doesn't he mention of bringing industries to Kingston, putting men to work as part of his achievements? Why doesn't he tell during this campaign of the large amount of money he spent for mechanical street sweepers and forced many men out of that class of work?

I honestly and sincerely tell you "That it is time to change again. We have had eight years of Heislman's rule and I am sure the people of the city of Kingston have definitely determined to end Bolly. My real name is Boulevard."

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

This & That: Millions have been made and lost on tablecloths in New York hotels and restaurants. . . . A pencil is the only equipment necessary. . . . Never mind the laundry bills and ruined tablecloths. . . . Instead of paper profits, linen profits. . . . Now come the amateur strategists who win battles on night-club tablecloths. . . . Draw war maps and write out plans. . . . They have never smelled gunpowder, heard big guns or worked out a war college problem. . . . Yet they feel entirely qualified to criticize the British and French general staffs. . . . It might be a lot better for all concerned if they would concentrate not on war plans but on plans to keep America out of Europe. . . . Am reminded of the Times elevator operator who was asked what service he would choose if called to the colors. . . . "The B army," was his reply. "B here when you go and B here if you come back."

Subway entrance cloggers are one of my pet peeves. . . . Many New Yorkers have the habit of stopping to converse right in the paths of those who would go downstairs. . . . Buffeting doesn't seem to make any impression at all. . . . Dark looks have still less effect. . . . Apparently that which is being discussed is of such importance that inconvenience to others is of no consequence. . . . Yet portions of such conversations as have reached my ears have been merely trivial. . . . Another quaint New York habit I've noted is that of "swelling out." . . . A New Yorker finding space enough for two on a subway seat immediately tries to absorb it all. . . . Some women place packages on the seat beside them. . . . and look inquisitively at those who take them on their laps so that some one else may rest his or her feet. . . . Great town, New York.

The talk was about a well-known writer of hit songs. . . . He owes a great deal of his success to his wife," asserted one. . . . "Yeah," added Louis Prima, "and he owes even more to Tschakovsky." . . . Al Smith is to be a candidate for the city council in the November election. . . . The son, not the father. . . . Though once upon a time, Al Smith Sr. was a member of the board of aldermen. . . . "Let's all hope," says Phil Baker, "that America remains the place where the only precaution necessary against a gas attack is a can of bicarbonate." . . . And night when I hear a plane droning overhead, I'm thankful that instead of a bomber, it is merely the Albany mail.

Like Bea Wain's description of a "typical" New Yorker: "He is a man who dawdles for an hour at an excavation job but waits if he has to wait three minutes for a subway train; who runs up escalator steps; who insists on getting the morning paper the night before; who wouldn't accept a $20 bill for a dime for fear something was being put over on him; who knows all the racketeers because he's always falling for them, and finally, he's the man who professes scorn for 'huck' towns but if there's one thing he dreams of settling down to when he has enough money, is a 'quiet place in the country.'"

For at least two years, there have been "danger" signs in front of a Forty-second street restaurant. . . . The signs are so spaced that they afford just enough parking space for the trucks of the company operating the place, which is one of a chain. . . . Yet New Yorkers, including those who pass day after day, give those signs as much room as they can. . . . Elevators which rise from basements up to the sidewalk level must be equipped with warning bells so that pedestrians may get out of the way. . . . A number of out-of-towners have taken free rides because they stopped to try to learn why the bell was ringing.

Advertisements begging owners to come and get their money may seem strange. . . . Yet they have been appearing again in New York newspapers. . . . Banks with unclaimed deposits want to get rid of them. . . . Those "inactive accounts" cost them money. . . . If not claimed, they eventually pass to the state. . . . and now, THE END.

Cycles Daily for 41 Years
SEAFORD, DEL.—P. Frank Atkins observed his seventeenth birthday anniversary by taking his daily bicycle ride. He attributes his good health to 61 years of "cycling," during which time he never has failed to take his daily ride.

This Duck Possesses

Two Pairs of Wings
WHITEHILL, N. Y.—F. H. Vanderwerker, Williams street, owns a duck named Donald, which has two sets of wings, something his famous namesake cannot quack-quack about.

Other than this oddity Donald is normal. There is the regular set of wings, and normal, and below them, on each side is an extra wing as large as the normal ones.

Shop Gets Sign

A handsome new neon sign has been erected for the Elston Sport Shop at the new location in the recently remodeled Cordis building on Fair street. The sign, by Modjeska Sign Studios, is of green porcelain enamel, with stainless steel trim and green and red tubing.

Ashamed

Virginia D'Amore, 18, (above) was charged with the slaying of her baby daughter, born October 5, after police said she admitted killing the infant at Paterson, N. J., because she was unwed and "ashamed." The mother was held in New York for New Jersey authorities.

Birthday Celebrant Given Another Chance by Judge

Harry Peterson, 41, of 96 Lonsberry Place, was arrested Wednesday evening on a charge of public intoxication. The arrest followed a telephone call that an intoxicated man was in a doorway on central Broadway. Peterson told Judge Cahill today that he was a stevedock and had been celebrating his birthday. Since he had spent last night in jail and this was his first appearance in police court, he was given another opportunity by the judge.

Catherin Van Steenburgh of Third avenue, charged with public intoxication, was arrested last night. Judge Cahill sentenced her to a day in jail, and as she had served the time she was discharged.

Office Seeker Throws Hat In Ring Far in Advance

Matthew D. Hasbrouck, former State Trooper, is taking time by the forelock, getting in on the ground floor, as it were, "Matt" is sending letters to committeemen in Ulster county announcing that he will be a candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket when the convention meets in July, 1941.

"Matt" formerly served with Troop C of the State Police, later drove a Short Line bus for some time and more recently, in addition to his duties as deputy sheriff and looking after his poultry business at Mt. Tremper, has taken the contract to carry mail out of Mt. Tremper.

Society to Meet

The Women's Missionary Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors. The president, Mrs. Harry Hulsar, will be in charge, and the devotions will be conducted by Mrs. Simon Wood, Christian Womanhood in Africa and the Near East will be presented by Miss Lucy J. Hedy. Mrs. Harry Klothe will give a biography of Dr. Howard Somerville, missionary doctor and famous climber of Mt. Everest. Harold S. Brigham will sing a baritone solo. The hostesses are Mrs. J. W. Frankel and Mrs. Harold S. Brigham.

Gillingwater Ends Own Life in Home At Beverly Hills

Beverly Hills, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP)—The shocking death of bushy-browed Claude Gillingwater, 69, lovable character actor of stage and screen, stirred the film colony today.

Detectives, summoned by the kindly old fellow's housekeeper, found the body late yesterday in a chair in a closet of Gillingwater's quiet home, a bullet wound through the chest.

Four neatly-typed notes—one to police and the others to his son, his physician and his housekeeper—told of suicide, said Detective A. J. Gebhart.

Gillingwater, more than six feet tall, thin and stooped, alternated in film roles between self-righteous crookedness, honest crustiness and mellow thoughtfulness, depending on whether he played the part of a shady-principled banker, a judge or a southern gentleman.

Born at Louisiana, Mo., August 2, 1870, he attended high school at St. Louis and entered motion pictures in 1921, with Mary Pickford in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," after eight years of stage experience with David Belasco. He made his Broadway debut with Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Za Za."

Injured in a fall early in 1936 and in poor health since then, he had appeared infrequently in recent months.

Vagrancy Charge

Edward Wisniewski, 47, of Camden, N. J., was held at the county jail last night for appearance before Justice Humphrey Jones on a charge of vagrancy. He was arrested at Glenclire by Trooper Reilly.

American Music Heard by Society

An evening devoted to music by outstanding American composers was enjoyed Wednesday by the members of the Musical Society of Kingston at the November meeting held at the home of Mrs. Bernard Forst, 32 Maiden Lane. The program was arranged by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper and Mrs. Le Roy Wood.

A brief history of American composers was given by Mrs. A. Noble Graham, who said that virility and rhythm were the two outstanding qualities of American music. In her talk she mentioned Stephen Foster, whose music appeals to the American love of sentiment; Dudley Buck, who contributed so greatly to sacred music; George Chadwick, the dean of American composers who is known largely for his symphonic and chamber music; Horatio Parker, whose "Hymn to the Virgin" will be presented in the spring by the Oratorio Society of this city; Ethelbert Nevin, Reginald de Koven, John Powell, John Alden Carpenter, John Philip Sousa, Mrs. A. H. A. Beach, and Charles Wakefield Cadman, were some of the many others who represent the great field of American composers.

The program of piano and vocal selections opened with two piano solos by MacDowell, "From an Indian Lodge" and "A Song" played by Mrs. William S. Eltinge. Other numbers were a piano duet by the Misses Jane and Ethel Meuterstock who played three selections, "The Dawn," "The Goodnight," and "Venetian Love Song" from "A Day in Venice" by Ethelbert Nevin; a trio, "Sweet and Low" arranged by Williams, sung by Mrs. Clarence Wolford, Mrs. Maurice V. Vennio and Mrs. Warren Ingalsbe; and selections from the song cycle, "The Morning of the Year" by Cadman sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. LeRoy Wood, Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer, Leonard Stine and Joseph Craig. The trio was accompanied by Miss Ethel Meuterstock and the quartet by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper.

The guests at the meeting also participated in the program. Mrs. Harry Smith, organist at the Roundout Presbyterian Church, spoke briefly on the life of the composer of the "Sweet and Low" trio arrangement and of her friendship and acquaintance with her, Marion Cowley Jameson, soprano soloist of the Calvary Church, Newburgh, was a guest of her cousin, Mrs. Walter T. Tremper and sang two selections also by American composers, "Nocturne" by Curran and "Let All My Life Be Music" by Charles Gilbert Spross. Mrs. Tremper was the accompanist.

During the business meeting it was announced that the December meeting will be changed from December 6 to December 5 because of the Stanley Hummel recital occurring on the same date. The name of Miss Eva Clinton, whose resignation has been received by the club, was placed on the honorary membership list. Miss Clinton was president of the Musical Society for two years and also held other offices.

Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Ellison assisting Mrs. Forst as hostess. The tea tables were presided over by Mrs. Lloyd R. Le Fever, president, and Mrs. Harry P. Dodge.

Halloween Party

West Havel, Nov. 2.—The P. U. G. S. Club of West Havel gave a Halloween party at the town hall Monday evening, October 30. A large crowd attended. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. First Cooperative Concert November 8

On Wednesday evening, November 8, the first of this season's cooperative concerts will be given at the Kingston High School Auditorium. The artist will be Anna Kaskas, leading contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Association, with Howard Kulik as accompanist and assisting soloist.

As usual the concert will begin at 8:30 p. m. and those attending are reminded that late comers will not be admitted to the auditorium during the singing or playing of any number.

Announcement of the program is made at this early date for the convenience of those who are music students or others desiring to make themselves acquainted with the various works. To such the reminder is given that there is an ample collection of operatic and other fine vocal music to be loaned from the Lillian Miller Hemstreet Memorial Library of Music at the Kingston Library which may be taken for study by accredited music students.

Again those attending the concert and driving their own cars are asked to discharge their passengers at the uptown side door of the high school and meet them at the close of the concert at the downtown side door. Those attending in chauffeur driven autos or taxis will be left at the main entrance and meet there at the close of the concert.

The full program follows:

Surprised on Halloween

A surprise Halloween party in honor of Mrs. E. H. Longyear was held at her home, Lucas avenue extension, Tuesday evening. Arrangements for the event were in charge of Mrs. Richard Winslow. The dining room of the Longyear residence was decorated in true Halloween fashion as the guests assembled to surprise Mrs. Longyear. Present were Mrs. Edna Southard, Miss Mildred Hawksley, Mrs. Verna McCann, Miss Louise Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winslow, George Winslow, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Longyear.

Honored at Shower

New Paliz, Nov. 1.—Elinor Louise Jammet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon L. Jammet of Poughkeepsie, whose marriage to Raymond Ellows will take place in the late autumn, was honored at a surprise dinner and kitchen shower Saturday night given at the home of Mrs. Andrew Deyo of New Paliz. The hostesses were: Mrs. James R. Peeler, Jane M. Rose and Mrs. Donald Campbell. Gifts for the bride-to-be were arranged in "spider web" fashion. There were 17 guests present.

Business Girls Hear Speaker

Superintendent of Schools Arthur Laidlaw was the guest speaker at a Wednesday afternoon regular weekly supper meeting of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. Mr. Laidlaw took as his topic the club theme for the year, "Service," telling the story of Florence Nightingale as an outstanding example of service under great difficulties. The next meeting of the club will be the service meeting next week at which time the members will sew for the Red Cross and Miss Elizabeth Dreile will tell of her summer spent in Mexico.

Party Hostess

Miss Janice Reben entertained friends at a Halloween party on Saturday afternoon and evening at her home on the Sawkill road. During the afternoon games were played and in the evening dancing was enjoyed. A buffet luncheon was served. The guests were the Misses Marjorie Felton, Barbara Hornbeck, Frieda Kaplowitz, Frances Martelone, Dorothea Seward, Edna Short and Eleanor Waterman.

100 Attend Party

The Halloween party held by the Young Peoples' Society of West Park in the Ascension parish house, was a great success. Over 100 people attended, most of whom were in costume. The party was opened by having the people go through a chamber of horrors, after which the grand march was held and prizes were given for costumes. A peanut hunt was held and several games were played. Dancing was continuous throughout the evening, both modern and old fashioned. A short skit was given which was greatly enjoyed by the audience. People attended the party from Highland, Esopus, Ulster Park and Kingston. The club took in over $35 which is to be used to buy basketball equipment. The next club meeting is to be held Tuesday evening, November 7, at which time the members are requested to turn in the ticket money, if they have not already done so.

Annual Fair at Roundout

The annual fair and turkey dinner of the Roundout Presbyterian Church will be held on Tuesday evening, November 14, beginning at 5:30 o'clock, and on Wednesday evening, November 15, a turkey salad supper will be served. This will be the 58th annual dinner given by this church and every effort will be made to make it a successful affair. Mrs. Alice Metcalf, Mrs. William McCullough and Miss E. M. Jamieson will be in charge of the domestic booth; Mrs. M. R. Coutant and Mrs. V. J. Faulkner at the candy booth; Mrs. A. H. Russell, Mrs. W. I. Hutton and Mrs. Matilda Meeker at the art booth; Mrs. I. W. Scott and Mrs. D. L. Doherty at the juvenile table. The decorations and dining room service will be in charge of the Service Club assisted on Wednesday night by Miss Anna McClenahan's Sunday School class. The president of the Ladies Aid Society is the general chairman.

Guido-Simmons

Miss Hazel A. Simmons of 24 Ann street, and G. Vincent Guido of East Kingston, were united in marriage in East Kingston on October 28, by the Rev. George McWeeney. They were attended by Henry Mierzwa and Louise Guido, both of Poughkeepsie.

Public Card Party

The Rifton Rock School 4-H Club will hold a pinocchio party at the school, this evening. Playing will begin at 8:30. The public is invited.

"Juvenile Frolics" at Port Ewen

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Reformed Church house in Port Ewen the consistory of the Reformed Church will present the "Juvenile Frolics." This consists of musical numbers, novelty acts, acrobatic stunts and fancy tap dancing presented by a clever troupe of young entertainers from Oneonta. Numbered in the company are 19 young people, some of whom have travelled in 38 states and Canada giving programs. Others have appeared on the radio. They are under the direction of Harry Denmark of the Y. M. C. A. in Oneonta. A small admission will be charged. Homemade candy and other refreshments will be on sale. Harry Van Ormer is general chairman of the arrangements. The program is as follows: Blue Hawaiians with their electric guitars; Tapping Sue, tapping out "Sweet Sue"; Blue Hawaiians, "Roll Out the Barrel"; Bobby Greek, the personality kid with the million dollar voice; Blue Hawaiians, "Building a Sailboat of Dreams"; Twinkletoes, fast tap to "Rezap Band"; modern Hula dance; Blue Hawaiians, "Hilo March"; George Decker, recently appeared on Major Bowes' program, with his violin and tapping shoes; Bobby Greek, "Sail on Harvest Moon"; Betty Ellen Field, modern acrobatic novelty treat; Blue Hawaiians, "Song of the Islands"; Twinkletoes and Sue, swinging to a "Tiger Rag"; George Decker, eccentric Buck dance; Aloah; Arabian Knights, juvenile acrobatic troupe.

Holy Cross Bazaar

Five organizations of the Church of the Holy Cross will unite their efforts for a bazaar to be held in the Parish Hall Wednesday, December 6, it was announced today. The Woman's Auxiliary, the Guild of St. Ann, the Junior Guild of St. Ann, the Girls' Friendly Society and the boys' club will be represented with Mrs. George Burgevin, Mrs. Rufus Whitney, Miss Delores Westcott and Miss Edith Langling in charge of the arrangements. Booths of various kinds will display fancy articles and candy and there will also be a special booth for the children. Supper will be served in connection with the bazaar.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting

A meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary ball committee will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Final arrangements for the Victory Ball November 10 will be made. All committees are asked to report at this time.

ALL-DAY FROCK FOR MATRONS

MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9228

For board meetings . . . shopping . . . office . . . or any day-time activity, here's a business-like frock that fills the bill! Marian Martin has planned Pattern 9228 to magically slim a matronly figure—and she does it, not "with mirrors," but with expert proportioning and good tailoring. The smart, paneled center buttoning makes a thinning line from neck to hem; the side-fronts of the bodice are on a striking bias. Make a net self-fabric collar, a collar of light contrast or have just a becoming V-neck. For a house-dress style, use short sleeves, perhaps with sleeve tabs to match a contrasting collar and rib-rac trim.

Pattern 9228 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 4½ yards 39 inch fabric and ¾ yard contrast.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coin for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Fashion is at your finger-tips with a MARIAN MARTIN WINTER PATTERN BOOK in your hands! For your ten nimble fingers plus page after page of her easy patterns add up to sure style success. This book offers a fine selection of suits, dresses and coats, whether you're a career woman, socialite, housewife or coed. There are tailored, day and evening frocks, cheery home styles, youngster togs and gift ideas for everyone. BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PATTERNS FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERNS TOGETHER TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "The Personal Hygiene of a Woman," "The Book of Social Usage," etc.)

Man and Girl Proprietors

Dear Mrs. Post: I am living in a hotel, alone. The young woman to whom I am devoted is coming through this city, alone, and will have a three-hour stopover. Would etiquette allow us to drive out somewhere in a car and park on an unfrequented road so we could talk alone? I have been told, in answer to a question put to the proprietor, that a young woman—even though my promised wife—can not be permitted to visit my room. They will not make an exception even though I have lived in this hotel for some years. To the management, this fact seems to make not the least bit of difference.

Answer: In no hotel of high reputation is a woman permitted to go to a man's room. You can sit in the hotel lobby, or in one of the reception rooms; or you could go and sit on a bench in the park, or lunch in a restaurant and go to the movies. For that matter, you could take a drive and get out of the car and sit in the open country almost anywhere. But you know as well as I do that sitting for three hours in a parked car somewhere on an unfrequented road can hardly be given the stamp of propriety!

Unusual Way to Use Visiting Cards Today

Dear Mrs. Post: A few days after my wedding invitations were sent out, my parents received an envelope with two Mr. and Mrs. cards enclosed, and no message from friends of the groom's family who are strangers to us. What does this mean? We have never heard of it.

Answer: It means that they will be unable to come to the wedding and that the sending of their cards is to be considered the same as the paying of two formal visits, one upon your mother and father and the other upon you and your husband. By and by, if you want to be very polite, you and your mother go and leave your cards at their door. This is one of yesterday's very empty social forms that has grown almost obsolete outside of diplomatic circles. Possibly there too!

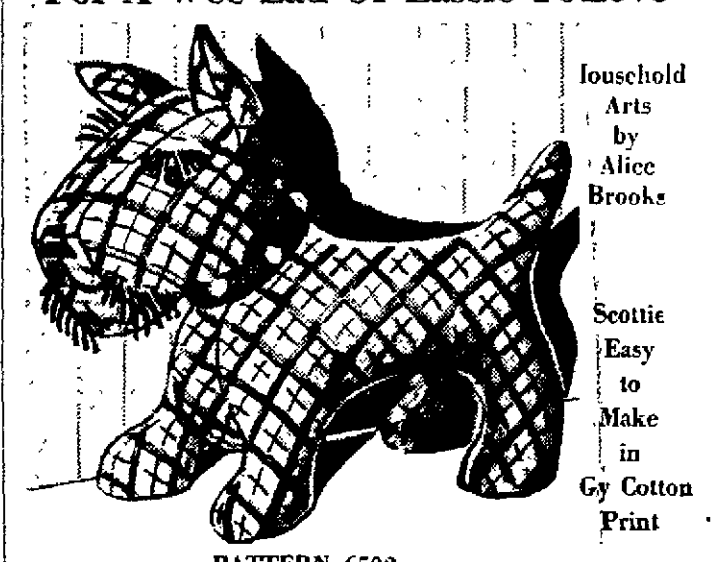

Which Visitor Leaves First?

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me who is supposed to leave first when two people pay a friend a visit on the same afternoon, the one who was their first, or the second who interrupted their visit.

Answer: In most situations the one who arrived first is expected to leave first. An exception is when the first is a very intimate friend who has come to spend the afternoon, and the other one a formal visitor. A still more particular exception is when the hostess is not married and the first visitor is a man she seems to like. In both cases the second visitor should leave first, in the second instance very soon. It goes without saying, of course, that I am not considering a question of three intimate friends who more than likely spend the afternoon together, the two visitors leaving at the same time. But it is important to consider the intimate girl friend who hasn't tact enough to remember that the more attractive man, the less excusable is failure to interpret lack of enthusiasm welcome as meaning "exit immediately."

While Mayor in 1932-1933 he paid the debts of the City as they came due. He issued no bonds to refinance existing debt.

He put the credit of the City on a sound basis by installing the present form of accounting and budget system in the City Treasurer's office.

His tax rate of 1933 was lower than that of this year and last year.

OFFICE CAT
The Journey
Live your life each day as you would climb a mountain. An occasional glance towards the summit keeps the goal in mind. But it is the slow, steady climb, not the view, that gets you to the top. Objectives are of little use unless we strive diligently to reach them.

Mrs. Scallop—My husband certainly does enjoy smoking in his den. Does your husband have a den?

Mrs. Crabshaw—No, he grows all over the house.

Recommended for the lobbies of hospitals—a sign in the hotels of Rochester, Minn., home of the Mayo Clinic, reading: "Please Do Not Discuss Your Operation in the Lobby."

Man—Why do you weep over the sorrows of people in whom you have no interest when you go to the theatre?

Wife—I don't know. Why do you cheer wildly when a man with whom you are not acquainted slides into second base?

Triplets recently born to Mrs. Betty Mora, of Chicago, have been named Kate, Duplicate, and Triuplicate. Nature sometimes makes it easy to select names.

Little Junior let no grass grow under his feet. When his rich Uncle Joe came for a visit, he immediately rushed up to him with:

Junior—Uncle Joe, make a noise like a frog?

Uncle Joe—Why?

Junior—Cause when I ask daddy for anything, he always says, "Wait till your uncle croaks."

The most worthless worker in a group will nearly always be the loudest in insisting that he is not paid enough and that too much is required of him.

Mrs. Perkins—Why do ships use knots instead of miles?

Mr. Perkins—I suppose they want to keep the ocean tide.

Another impediment to marriage is the increasing difficulty in supporting the government and a wife on one income.

First Fisherman—It's getting late, and we haven't caught a single fish.

Companion—Well, let's let two more big ones get away and then go home!

The way the people growl about the weather might lead a stranger to believe that the government is trying to regulate it.

Prosecuting Attorney (to opponent)—You are the biggest boob in the city!

Judge (rapping for order).—Gentlemen, you forget that I am here.

A man may succeed in leading a woman to the altar. After that... she leads.

"Do you promise to tell the truth and nothing but the truth?" doesn't mean any more to some people than a handful of confetti the day after the wedding.

A man is usually satisfied if his clothes are comfortable. A woman doesn't care so much about comfort providing she feels she is in style.

The two men hadn't met for years.

First—And is your wife still as pretty as she used to be?

Second—Oh, yes, but it takes her much longer.

School Teacher—Now, Bobby, spell "needle."

Bobby—N-e-e-d-l-e.

Teacher—Wrong. There is no "n" in needle.

Bobby—Well, 'tain't a good needle then.

Five Students Benefit

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 2 (AP)—Five Harvard students benefitted to the extent of approximately $360 each today under an annual scholarship established in 1916 by William Stanislaus Murphy of the class of 1885 for the "collegiate education of men of the name of Murphy." The recipients of the scholarships include Albert S. Murphy, '43, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Arline Judge Asks Separation From Socialite Husband

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Arline Judge, once heralded by Hollywood as the "girl with the most beautiful figure in the world," has started a separation action against her socialite husband, Dan Topping, but Topping's attorneys today held out hope of a reconciliation.

Miss Judge charged that Topping, part owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers' football team, had been "cruel and inhuman" during their two and a half years of marriage and had abandoned her. She asked $35,000 annual alimony, custody of Daniel Topping, Jr., born in February, 1938, and $50,000 for attorney fees.

Selig Silverman, one of Topping's attorneys, said, "our efforts will be toward a reconciliation." The Toppings were married in April, 1937, shortly after the actress' divorce from Movie Director Wesley Ruggles became final. She and Ruggles were married in 1931.

and they had a son, Wesley Ruggles, Jr., now 7. Topping married Theodora Boettger in 1932. They were divorced three years later. Miss Judge's action followed a public disclaimer of her debts which Topping published yesterday morning.

Boys' and girls' farm clubs in Canada have a combined total membership of approximately 37,000.

Kingston Celtics Win Opener From Baltimore by 38-33 Score

McDermott Ousted With Kaplan for Fighting on Floor

Local Club Takes Early Lead, but Orioles Rally Near End—Sphas Here November 8

It'll take a good club to keep Kate Smith's Celtics from repeating as the American Basketball League's first place team. At least that was the opinion of those who saw the Big Green Wave outscore the Baltimore Orioles last night 38-33.

Not until the last period did the former Brooklyn Visitation really wake up and the rally came too late to pull them out of the hole into which they were driven by the Colonials, sparked by Peter Berenson, who came out of the fray with 11 points.

Allie Esposito was the spark-plug and Johnny Donlon's club, scoring seven of his 10 points in the opening frame. He was shackled after that, however, and left Bill Nash, former Columbia captain, to do the heavy bombardment for Baltimore in the last session. Nash wound up with six markers, all tallied in the closing stanza.

Bobby McDermott, American League prodigy, the caper most of the fans (and there weren't too many present) came out to see, was hoisted in the second period, as was his opponent, Sammy Kaplan of the Celtics, for a display of fistfighting on the Broadway end of the court. Referee Chuck Soladore, after one warning following a previous mixup, decided the going would be smoother with these two out of the lineup.

McDermott looped in some nice long range shots for seven points while he was in the game, and Kaplan matched him with two dukes and three fouls.

Kingston put on the pressure in the last five minutes of the first period, breaking an 11-11 dead-lock and came out on top for the first intermission by 17-12. Peter Berenson contributed five and Kaplan four points in this frame. Esposito led the Orioles' attack with seven.

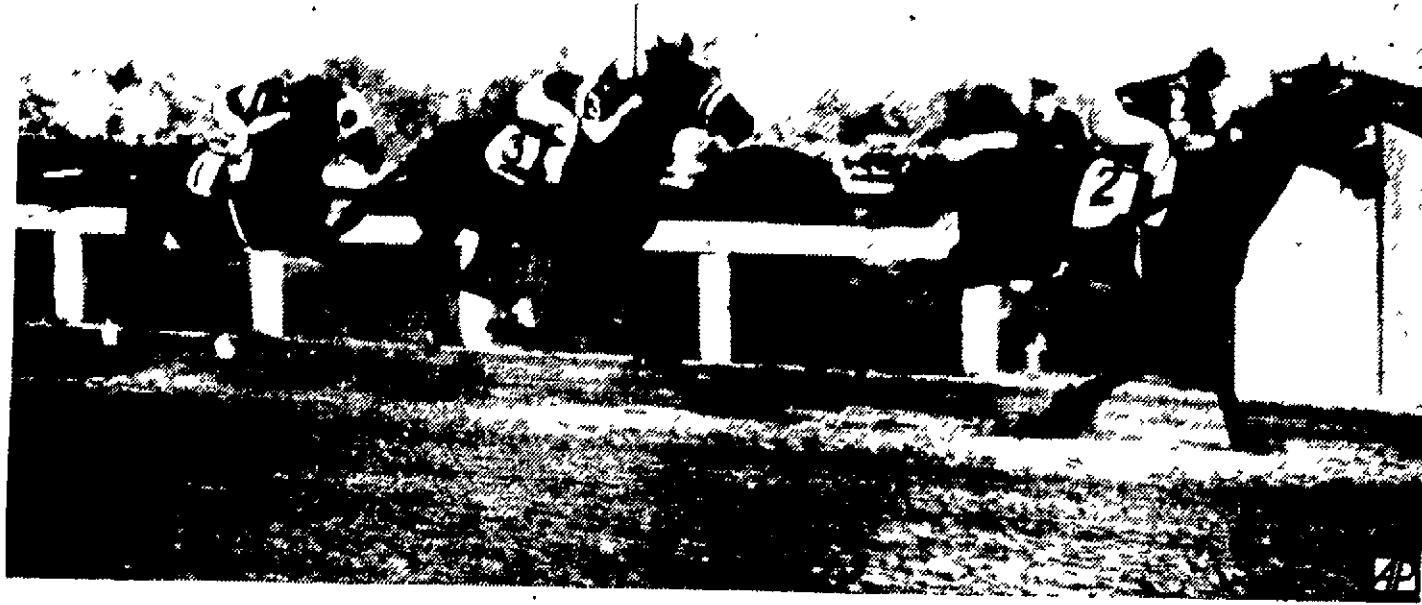

In the second period, Bernie Fliegel paced the Sedranites with five points and it was he who helped the home team snow under the visitors 12-7 in this chukker. McDermott matched the Colonial center's score before he was ordered to the bench for scrapping.

During the closing minutes of the final frame, the Orioles came to life and Nash pumped in his three dukes, two of them push-ups, and took the play away from the Celtics 14-9. Berenson's snarl and three free shots gave the home club five of its nine markers for this session.

After the game, Barney Sedran said, "There surely was plenty of fight and fire in tonight's game and I think it forecasts the keen rivalry that is bound to crop up in the American League when the loop gets started."

"McDermott was a bit unruly, because he hasn't accustomed himself to the close play of the

CHALLEDON FIGHTS OFF KAYAK II TO WIN SPECIAL

With a great stretch drive that was all heart, Challdon, William L. Brann's colt (No. 2) took the Pimlico Special at Baltimore away from Kayak II (all feet off ground), with Cravat (No. 1) third. Here the champion and his two challengers pass the judge's stand the first time around, in the order in which they finished. At the finish line, however, Cravat was several lengths behind. Challdon led all the way—except for a brief but dramatic moment in the stretch when Kayak II forged ahead.

Princeton Player May Lose His Leg

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Don Herring, stalwart tackle of the Princeton University football team, lay on a hospital bed today, unaware surgeons were considering amputating his left leg.

"There is only one chance in a million the leg can be saved," said the injured youth's father, Donald G. Herring, Sr., as he stood mystified last night outside his 21-year-old son's room in Princeton Hospital.

Herring, St. himself a Princeton line great in '37, came by airplane from Florida yesterday.

Dr. Ralph J. Belford, hospital surgeon, said a "decision has not yet been made" on amputation.

Don, six feet four and 237 pounds of brawn, was injured on the first play of the Brown game last week.

Don, a native of Princeton, started at Andover Preparatory and came back to Princeton to set a university track record in the discus. He is a junior.

Al Davis Ends Canzy's Career

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Broadway saw one of its favorite sons reach the end of the road in Madison Square Garden last night—and it wasn't a pretty sight.

Old and ring-wise Tony Canzoneri, veteran of 166 stirring battles, was belted into oblivion by the stinging left hand of a young Brooklyn kid, placid Al Davis, in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder in the same arena where his fight with Al Singer set an attendance record back in 1928, the same ring where he lost the featherweight title to Andre Routs, the same ring where he won the lightweight title from Singer in 1930.

Afterwards the Canzoneri dressing room was like a tomb—in sharp contrast to the stuffy quarters where Davis changed into street togs.

"Well, it had to come sometime," Tony mumbled through a cut lip. His followers nodded sadly. He said he hadn't any plans but when asked if this was his last fight he looked glumly up and said, "Gosh, I hope so."

His right eye was badly damaged from the blows of Davis, the smiling slugger.

A momentary roar from the crowd of 12,750 greeted the end of the Canzoneri saga, and they fled out almost as though they were passing Tony's bier, shocked and stunned that the end had come so quickly to their idol.

Early in the third round, Davis knocked Tony wobbly with a thunderous left hand. Tony plopped to the floor, but managed to get up at the count of three.

The husky Davis hurtled across the ring and blasted him again with another flurry and floored him again with a numbing left.

He struggled up at six, but Referee Arthur Donovan, waving the eager Davis away, put his arm around Tony, and led him to his corner.

The fight ended officially at 2:13 of the third round, and drew a gate of $30,793.09, of which Davis and Tony will take about $8,500 apiece.

Maroon Gridders Begin Drills for Port Tussle

After last Saturday's fatal clash with the Poughkeepsie Marauders, the Maroon and White gridders of Kingston High School enjoyed a two day rest on Monday and Tuesday. Although this layoff didn't help preparation for the next game with Port Jervis, the Kias-coached representatives welcomed the rest.

On paper the Chasemen of Port Jervis will be slight favorites against Kingston. The Tri-Staters were licked by a 25 to 6 count by Poughkeepsie, the same club which just about annihilated Kingston 32 to 0. Besides this Port will have four expert linemen returning plus a batch of experienced backs.

Coach Chase has All-DUSO Tom Connelly at center, Lysiak and Harry Secher back at guard and tackle. Curran is slated to work again at his left guard slot. These four stalwarts comprised one of the strongest lines last year. Norm Fitzgibbons, a substitute lineman last year, has been holding down the left tackle position all year and has turned in some nice jobs both on offense and defense.

As for Port's backfield there are four well-rounded passers, runners and kickers. Brad Van Aiken, Junie Quinn, brother of the famous Ned; Ray Dunn and Ed Rutan will open up in the starting secondarv. These four gallopers paved the way for Port's stunning victory over Greensburg of White Plains last week. The score was 27 to 0.

One of the high spots in Port's recent triumph was Joe Garrity, a one-armed player who snatched a pass heaved by Ray Dunn and then continued to click off plenty of yardage for a touchdown. Garrity will probably see a lot of action against the Maroon. Southern, Pierce, Burgess, Norman, Cuddeback, Rienickel, Cooke, Pavlen, Prichard, Smith, Ranish, E. Fraytag and Lloyd Shields are slated to see service this Saturday at the starting roster meets tonight.

Unless the Maroon and White gridders show a decided increase of pep and all-around improvement, a lot of the players who were on the sidelines. This is the word received from Coach G. Warren Kias, who was thoroughly satisfied last Saturday. Even though Kingston has been battered around all season, a feat which was completely stopped last Saturday, Kingston must improve its passing if a win over Port is expected in the least. A thorough going-over is expected to hit the front wall too before starting time this week.

The Kiasmen will devote most of their time this week in brushing up the erratic passing department which was completely stopped last Saturday.

Bigger Turnout for League Opener
... Canzoneri Is All Through

The Kate Smith Celtics got a big and when they walked out at the auditorium last night to play the Baltimore Orioles... Too bad there wasn't a larger turnout... At least the promoters would have felt better... However, they're banking on a paying crowd as soon as the American League schedule starts... The Sphas open with the Celtics here next Wednesday, the 10th... This match should pack the auditorium... The Hebrews were good drawing cards last season... Chuck Solodare was more dramatic than ever last night... He had a full night's work blowing the whistle to enforce those new rules... Poor Jack O'Brien takes a razzing because some of the customers have it in for his Pop, who is president of the league... Bobby McDermott should have brought his boxing gloves... Max Schmeling wants another crack at Joe Louis... He said so in Rome, Italy, where he's visiting... Henry Armstrong has gone to Hot Springs to get ready for his match with Lou Amburs—which may never come off, say the experts... Duke vs. North Carolina, two weeks away, is a complete sellout and may set new southern attendance record... Poor little Tony Canzoneri, laid after he was stopped by Al Davis last night, when he was asked if he was through—"I hope so."

THE MARSHALLS

Debonair George Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, kisses his wife, the former Corinne Griffith of film fame, every time his team makes a touchdown... Who wouldn't?... Nile Kinnick, Iowa triple threat, being boomed on "All-American" honors, is also No. 1 candidate for a Phi Beta Kappa key... Got his start kicking football with his dad... Caught Bob Feller's fast ball on a boy's baseball team and when his family moved to Omaha he was an all-state basketball player, and was named second all-state in football... Eddie Brietz of the A.P. writes: Marshall Goldberg will tell you the main difference between pro and semi-pro football is this: He gets $10,000 per year from the Chicago Cardinals, whereas at Pitt he was paid only $48 per month... Al Schacht has a football specialty that is going over big at some of the colliery games... Dick Freeman, sports editor of the Houston Chronicle, here for Rice vs. Fordham, says the All-American pickers can't go too strong on Jackie Crain, Texas U.S. sophomore back.

Jackets Work Out Tonight For Port Jervis 11 Sunday

Tonight at the usual hour on the gridiron at the municipal stadium, the Kingston Yellow Jackets will work out for their Sunday afternoon game on the same field with the Port Jervis Trojans.

Coach Don Beany requests that all of his gridirers be on hand for the drill. "We have to get back on the winning road Sunday," he said, "and the Waps will have to be ready for a strong attack."

The Jackets dropped their last two games after posting four wins in a row over Walden (2), Newburgh and Hudson, and hope to hit the glory streak again when they tackle the Port Trojans for the Christmas Cheer Fund.

The Tri-State brigade will feature a collection of former high school stars who have been playing together as a semi-pro outfit for several seasons, and, according to reports, should give the Waps a tough tussle.

Charlie Kozanowicz and Joe Koskie, the two Hudson stars, who played with the Jackets previous to last Sunday, will be in the line-up for the Port game at the stadium, and so will Eddie Kuzasian, fleet little backfielder, absent last week-end on account of illness.

Tickets for the benefit game are on sale and indications are that enough of them will be sold before the game to insure a large turnout of fans to give the Jackets plenty of moral support in their drive against the Trojans.

Boxing Card Tonight at 9W

This is the opening night at 9-W Rink, near Saugerties, for the boxing bouts sponsored by Washington Hook and Ladder Co. of that village, featuring Joe Bliss, Ellenville heavyweight, bound to turn pro soon, and a beef trust slugger from upstate, Johnny Everts of Schuylerville.

The heavyweight bout replaces the middleweight match between Monk Armstrong of Kingston and Tony Viscio which had to be cancelled because the Schuylerville scrapper is in a hospital being treated for injuries suffered in an auto accident.

The balance of the card:

Semi-Final
Charlie Raines, Saugerties, vs. Hank Bunce, Kingston, 5 rounds.

Other Bouts
Jackie Martin, Troy, vs. Leo Sarinelli, Albany, 5 rounds, bantamweights.
Baby Bunce, Kingston, vs. George Hein, Troy, 5 rounds.
Frank Hixon vs. Buddy Buford, Troy, heavyweights, 5 rounds.
Jimmy Amendola, Glasco, vs. Tommy Dunn, Albany, 3 rounds.
The first bout is scheduled for 8:30.

Wins Classic Race
Newmarket, Eng., Nov. 2 (AP)—Sir Alfred Butts Cantatrice II, 7 to 2 favorite, today won the historic Cesarewitch over two miles and 24 yards. Ridden by D. Smith, Cantatrice finished the long journey four lengths in front of F. Haslam's Cheerful Star with J. V. Rank's Black Speck third.

The American Basketball League has abolished the two-hand dribble rule.

Challendon's Win Earns Him Rest

Baltimore, Nov. 2 (AP)—Challendon, champion of all racing for 1939, went on vacation today before getting back on the glory road which stands a good chance of leading him to Sun Beau's all-time high money-winning record of $376,744.

William L. Brann's colt is still nearly $125,000 short of Sun Beau's "bank account," but this bay son of Challenger II, is only three years old—and from the way he whipped Kayak II and Cravat in Alfred G. Vanderbilt's annual "dream race," the Pimlico Special, yesterday, there's no indication he's going to stop hitting the jackpot soon.

His half-length victory over Kakak in the $10,000 winner-take-all special at a mile and three-sixteenths, with Cravat a poor third, boosted his earnings after two years of racing to $252,235, and earned for him a rest, which Owner Brann and Trainer Lou Schaefer are going to give him now. Although plans are still indefinite, the chances are "Big Pete" won't have any more work to do this year.

If he does any winter work after 1940 comes in, the probability is it will be in Florida. There are plenty of juicy posts at Hialeah and Tropical, headed by the $50,000 Widener Cup. Brann, who received a handsome gold cup as well as the $10,000 from the special, has said Challendon will be nominated for both the Widener and the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, just on the chance he may take his likeable big bay to California.

Since Kayak and Cravat, with Challendon, are the outstanding horses in training right now, and since Challenger's boy whipped both the others with a gallant stretch drive on a track not yet completely dry from three days of rain, his chances of picking up that $125,000 aren't too tough as long as he remains sound.

When Ed Simonich, former Notre Dame griddier, started to coach Carroll College this season, he was asked if he feared possible earthquakes, such as the city experienced several years ago. "After the Notre Dame-Army game," said Ed, "a few earthquakes more or less could make no difference."

No no-hitters are on record for the Little World Series, but two one-hitters have been recorded. Abner Gould, Toronto, and James Zinn, Kansas City, pitched these against Indianapolis and Baltimore, respectively, on September 26, 1917, and October 14, 1923.

The Seeing Eye
A survey of 400 blind men and women who are guided by dogs trained by the Seeing Eye shows that 75 per cent of them are either attending college, running a household or employed in full-time jobs, it was announced by Mrs. Harrison Eustis, founder and president of the Seeing Eye school. Twenty per cent of the graduates are salesmen, according to the survey; 18 per cent stand operators, 13 per cent students, 8 per cent hand industry workers, 7 per cent home teachers and 5 per cent "proprietors." With 75 per cent in normal pursuits or holding full-time positions, it would appear that they probably have a better record than the grown-up population of the country as a whole," Mrs. Eustis said. "It is not the work of the Seeing Eye to find employment, so we do not claim credit for this success."

Baptist Church Origin
According to the American Baptist History society, the Baptist denomination had its origin in 1608, among English exiles in Amsterdam, Holland. The leader and pastor of this group was John Smyth. Associated with him was Thomas Helwys, who returned to England about 1611 and established the first Baptist church of England at Southwark, London, of which he was pastor. It is generally recognized that Roger Williams established the first Baptist church of America in Providence, R. I., in 1639.

Aztec National Monument
Aztec Ruins National monument, New Mexico, represents the zenith of pueblo civilization. Of the 500 original rooms contained in the great communal dwelling 24 are still in a fine state of preservation. Known dates of Aztec Ruins extend from 1110 to 1121 A. D. At this monument is located the only reconstructed kiva in the Southwest. A large number of "clan houses," also included in Aztec Ruins, offer excellent facilities to the student archeology to gather connected data on the development of kivas.

Inquest Is Slated On Auto Deaths During September

An inquest will be held at the court house at 10 o'clock on November 9 at which time inquiry will be made into the circumstances surrounding the deaths of Edgar Windigstad of West Hurley and Thomas V. Murray, Jr., of Poughkeepsie, who died as a result of an accident at Esopus on September 22.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray has summoned witnesses to testify at the inquest.

Mr. Windigstad was killed instantly when his Hudson car and a Buick car operated by Quay Sargent of Kings Court Hotel, Poughkeepsie, collided near The Ritz Hotel at Esopus. The Hudson car was being operated northward toward Kingston and the Buick was traveling southward. Mr. Windigstad was killed instantly and Thomas V. Murray died later at the Benedictine Hospital.

Also injured in the crash was Charles Hedges, 23, of Katonah, who was taken to the Esopus hospital. Poughkeepsie; Betty Orzelle, 20, of New Paltz, and Sargent, who was confined to the Kingston Hospital for a long time with severe facial injuries.

According to the investigation by State Police the Buick car was on route to New Paltz to take the girls home and Windigstad was on his way from New York City to join his wife at West Hurley. The cars were badly wrecked when they sideswiped. The inquest was held in abeyance pending recovery of those injured in the crash.

Agent of William Penn Aided Virginia Quakers

There is an Eastern Shore tradition which tells the story of one Thomas Eyre having been sent south by William Penn and commissioned to aid in establishing Quaker meeting houses on the peninsula. At any rate, Sir William Kendall, of England, later married the widow of Thomas Eyre, of Northampton county in Virginia.

Sir William Berkeley, governor of the colony, granted a tract of land in 1682 to John, Thomas and Daniel Eyre. The patent to the Eastern Shore tract in Northampton county was made out in the name of Lieut. Col. William Kendall, stepfather of the Eyres, who conveyed it to them, writes Ellen Graves in the Richmond Times-Dispatch. William Kendall and several generations of his descendants have lived on that estate, which was once called Newport House and later changed to Eyreville, and which has now for long been known as Eyre Hall.

Near Eastville, built approximately 200 years ago by Severn and Margaret Eyre, Eyre Hall now stands in its own peculiar charm, perhaps the best-preserved specimen of Colonial architecture on the Eastern Shore.

One of the most remarkable facts about Eyre Hall, in addition to its undeniable quiet dignity and beauty, is that it has never gone out of the family, as have so many of Virginia's oldest estates. It is now owned by Mrs. Henry DuPont Baldwin, under whose hands—as she lives there with Mr. Baldwin and their two small children—Eyre Hall appears to rest content. About this lovely house there is no touch of the museum atmosphere so often attendant upon much revered antiquity; for despite, and paradoxically, because of the mellowed age which would ordinarily lend austerity to a house, Eyre Hall is essentially a home.

Dakota Black Hills

Many residents of the Black Hills cities think the name is lacking in distinction and would change it if they could, believing that would strengthen South Dakota's appeal to tourists. However, the name "Black Hills" has been identified with the range in South Dakota since before the coming of the white man. The Sioux called it "Pa-ha-sa-pa," which means Black Hills in their tongue. The blackness of the Black Hills consists in the discoloration of the rock outcroppings (the first land to emerge on this continent) and the darkness of the surrounding foliage, so that the hills appear quite black from a distance. Even at closer inspection many of the canyon walls look like rock from chimneys that have seen the smokes of many fires.

Early Trade Unions

Medieval British guilds prevented the working of non-members and some of the guild regulations of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries decreed that no guild journeyman was to work with a non-member. These tactics were continued by British trade unionism and were naturally conveyed to America. The Cordwainers' society of the City of New York in 1804, the New York Typographical society in 1809 and subsequently other unions adopted by-laws forbidding members to work for employers hiring men who did not belong to their organizations or who worked for wages lower than the union scale.

Harrington Warns Against Boom Hope

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP)—Col. Francis C. Harrington, national works progress administrator, advised the nation's municipal executives today not to count on a war-time boom for any extensive reduction in unemployment.

In a prepared speech to the American Municipal Association, Col. Harrington said he feared many Americans were "expecting too much from the war, especially in the matter of new employment."

"However large our new war-time employment," he asserted, "there will still be millions of unemployed in this country. And we shall still need a public work program to provide jobs and wages for the neediest of them."

Rothman Is Held In $50,000 Bail As Arson Suspect

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Philip Rothman, 43, Russian-born head of the P. H. Rothman Cotton Goods Co., was in the police line-up today charged with suspicion of arson in connection with a $170,000 fire.

Detectives of the district attorney's office said Rothman collected the money in insurance following a three-alarm blaze that destroyed a four-story building on lower Broadway. Rothman denied the charge. Rothman was held in $50,000 bail in felony court by Magistrate William A. Farrell who raised the bail from $10,000 on a plea by Assistant District Attorney Robert Thayer.

Joy Awaits Release

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Gaylord D. Joy, 33, son of a Troy, N. Y., manufacturer, awaited release from police custody today after County Physician I. E. Leonard exonerated him of any blame in the death of Joy's 38-year-old wife, Ethel. Mrs. Joy, found unconscious on the bedroom floor of her Ventnor apartment a week ago, died 24 hours later in city hospital. Dr. Leonard reported she died of "cerebral trauma with hemorrhage in the brain" and said he believed the injury was the result of a fall. Joy was held for questioning while authorities investigated his wife's death. No charge was placed against him.

Electrical Output Made New Record Again Last Week

Electric output last week again made a new record, the total of 2,538,779,000 kwh. being 14 per cent above the same week in 1938.

Estimates of October earnings made yesterday indicate that the railroads of the country will have better than anticipated fourth quarter earnings and that for the year as a whole aggregate results will be in the black whereas in 1938 there was a combined deficit of almost $123,000,000. With strict control of costs net operating income for October is believed to have been around $100,000,000, the best for any month in nine years. This should give a net income for the month of around $55,000,000 as compared with net of $40,000,000 in September.

Producers of anthracite coal have increased prices at the mine of broken, egg and chestnut coal ten cents a ton, with advances of 15 to 25 cents at tidewater. Prices are now $11.15 a ton above the late summer level, but still under the 1938-39 winter schedule.

Although net changes in averages were negligible Wednesday all classes of securities were off on the New York Exchange as the cautious mood which has characterized the market of late continued. Industrial averages were down .28 point for the day, to 151.60; rails lost .15 point, to 33.76 and utilities declined .12 point, to 25.68. Volume remained low, at 790,000 shares. Closing prices were above the lows for the day.

In the commodity markets both domestic and world sugar contracts showed firmness and prices advanced and there was a reversal in the price movement on high cotton futures, lost nine and one-half cents and wheat was down half a cent a bushel. As a whole the commodity index was up slightly. In addition to the regular dividend of 50 cents Standard Oil Co. of New York yesterday declared an extra of 25 cents and a dividend of three shares for each 200 shares held. The company also voted a contribution of $2,250,000 to the balance which employees have in the annuity and thrift plan.

Archers-Daniels-Midland voted 35 cents on common. Atlas Powder paid $1.50 on common. Bigelow-Sanford Carpet voted $1 on common; last payment was 50 cents in December, 1937. Phelps-Dodge declared a year-end dividend of 75 cents. Safeway Stores ordered cash payment of 75 cents on common and a stock dividend of 2-100 share of five per cent preferred for each common held. Tide Water Associated Oil declared 15 cents.

Regulation hearing before Judge Hubert in the case of the N. Y. O. & W. has been adjourned to November 15.

Net the New York Telephone Co. for 12 months ended September 30, was $33,443,398, comparing with net of $30,127,178 in the preceding year.

South Penn Oil Co. advanced prices 15 cents a barrel. It is the fifth boost within a year in price of Pennsylvania grade crude oil, due to increased demand and depleted stocks.

Trial of a $500,000,000 suit over profits from sale of Ethyl gasoline opened in Chancery Court in Trenton, N. J., Wednesday. Charges of a proffered $5,000,000 bribe and "hoarding" of witnesses were made and denied as the trial opened.

Justices Sue for Pay

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Mayor LaGuardia's salary-cutting "economy wave" in 1937 brought repercussions in state supreme court today when 53 justices of the municipal court filed suit to compel the city to pay them arrears of over the 2-year period. The suit, brought in the name of Justice Lewis A. Abrams and 52 fellow justices, named Mayor LaGuardia, the board of estimate and the city council as defendants.

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Rallying signs came into the stock market today, after an early set-back, and, near the final hour, leaders reduced or cancelled declines running to more than a point.

While selling was light throughout, late purchasing also was far from insistent. Transfers for the full proceedings approximated 800,000 shares.

The steady flow of pleasing, domestic business developments brought support for isolated issues but seemingly had little effect on the list generally. There was still talk of a possible let-down in the next quarter.

Traders apparently were unthrilled by prospects of a quick passage by the House of the arms embargo repeal, and Europe's "waiting war" again lacked speculative stimulus.

Bonds were uneven and foreign markets were unexciting. A sharp break in silk futures gave commodities a spotty appearance.

A bit backward most of the time—some eventually reversed—were S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Boeing, United Aircraft, Sperry, American Smelting, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, General Electric and Johns-Manville.

Resistant was Bethlehem Steel, Sears Roebuck, Anaconda, American Telephone, North American, Standard Oil of N. J., Eastman Kodak, Twin Coach and International Harvester.

Inclined to slip in the curb were Lockport, Longhough Forgings, Electric Bond & Share and American Cyanamid "B." Small plus signs were posted for Gulf Oil and International Petroleum.

Five Years for Dancer

Geneva, Nov. 2 (AP)—A 35-year-old dancer known as "Nina" was sentenced to five years in prison today by five Swiss judges who found her guilty of espionage and treason. Roger Jodet, former draftsman in a Swiss arms factory, jointly convicted on the same charges, was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

Forces Are United In Chicago to End Organized Gaming

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP)—Federal and county prosecutors united forces today in an unprecedented action intended to destroy organized gambling by cutting off communications services to the vast M. L. Annenberg racing news empire.

A government attorney said this was the first time in history that such a cooperative effort was undertaken.

William J. Campbell, United States District Attorney, and Thomas J. Courtney, state's attorney of Cook County (Chicago), addressed to three communications companies an ultimatum that they cease serving the Annenberg network.

The companies were the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Illinois Bell Telephone Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company. The utilities previously had been sent copies of an indictment accusing Annenberg and others of using interstate wires in the furtherance of a lottery scheme. Campbell at the time said that merely was a warning. Conferences between the government, utilities and Annenberg agents followed.

While the ultimatum covered only activities in the northern district of Illinois, Campbell said compliance with it would be a death blow since contracts between the utilities and Annenberg interests were executed in Chicago.

Asked what non-compliance would mean, Campbell said: "If they fail to obey, the only recourse is grand jury action." Letters to heads of the three communications organizations from the prosecutors stated contracts with Annenberg companies contained provisions that the arrangements covered by the contract "shall not be used for an unlawful act."

"These provisions," the Campbell-Courtney letters said, "clearly authorize a discontinuance of service for illegal purposes. Unquestionably the operation of these service enterprises are unlawful."

"You are therefore respectfully requested to immediately terminate such service."

Mrs. Florence Slater, who has been enjoying a few days stay with her daughter, Mrs. Niva Houck, of Wurtsboro, has returned home.

Strange Superstitions

Surround "Wash Days"

To Americans, there isn't much romance in wash day. It rolls around regularly and necessarily without any particular fuss. To people in many foreign lands, however, where wash day happens once a year or so, the business of soaping and rinsing and drying is a real event that is closely linked with the traditions of the past.

Among certain tribes even the day of the week has a special significance. Thus, Tuesdays and Fridays are unlucky for washing, says the Mohammedan from Morocco. Tuesday's wash will shrink, he claims, and the waste water from Friday's laundry may hurt the "jinn" when poured into the drain. Saturday is

Von Rintelen Fights Hitler

Famous German Who Was Spy in World War Now Naturalized Briton.

LONDON.—Charles Graves, special writer of the Daily Mail, in "covering" the admiralty in Whitehall the other day recognized a clean-shaven imposing German of athletic build who 25 years ago held an important position in the Wilhelmstrasse naval intelligence.

Since December, 1938, he had been a British subject with a town house in the fashionable West End and a villa near Ostend, whence he had dashed over when war had become inevitable. He had come at the urgent request of some personage in Whitehall with whom he was holding almost daily interviews.

The imposing German was the famous Captain Franz von Rintelen. His career has been periodically laid bare in the newspapers and several books, including his own, "The Dark Invader"; and in lawsuits. Still, he remains the most tantalizing man of mystery of his age, for, as his intimate friend and former captor, Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, head of the admiralty intelligence in the World War, remarked the other day:

"There must be in the Reich hundreds of von Rintelens who are only waiting for the opportunity that I unceremoniously thrust on our Franz."

Would Form Foreign Legion.
So Mr. Graves expected a frank answer from the former German naval officer, and got it—possibly—when he asked him why he was at Whitehall, where the war office is also located.

"I have the ambition to form a division of Czechs, Austrians, Germans and other emigres here to fight that Hitler," he said.

According to von Rintelen's autobiography, "The Dark Invader," which has been quietly circulated in a German edition in the Fatherland ever since its publication in the year that Adolf Hitler was made chancellor, the author was sent here in 1915 to superintend the sabotage against the plants which were turning out munitions for the Allies.

He was on his way back to Germany when he was plucked from a steamer and taken to London. There he was interrogated for long periods by the late Sir Basil Thomson, then the head of the combined S. B. and C. I. D., at New Scotland Yard. At the end he was requisitioned by Sir Reginald, turned over to him and was being entertained by him at his home, Donington Hall, in Hants, whence he made his escape.

Gave Himself Up.
He was at large in London for more than a month when, according to his own account, he first "saw the light" riding on top of an omnibus and gave himself up at the nearest police station.

It is a curious coincidence that soon after his surrender several persons suspected of being connected with German espionage were picked up by the C. I. D.
During the remainder of the war there were various rumors about the captain. Then silence. This silence was broken in 1933, when a sensational book, "40 O. B.—How the War Was Won," written by a former clerk in the admiralty, Hugh Cleland Hoy, appeared. Aside from revealing certain secrets of "Room 40" of the admiralty, the book purported to give the first authentic account of von Rintelen as a German spy. Author and publisher were promptly sued by him. That was the only prosecution. The case was settled out of court.

Shifts of United States Navy to Be Kept Secret

WASHINGTON.—The navy has imposed secrecy on the movement of scores of warships in an effort to tighten efficiency of its neutrality patrols and thwart the work of sabotage agents.

For the first time since the World War, the navy banned disclosure of movements of all combatant ships enroute for patrol work. The prohibition, however, was not applied to information concerning transports, supply craft, or armed ships returning to yards for overhauling or remodeling.

The secrecy order, it was believed, would apply to the navy's reported plan to send "sizable" units to Hawaii within the next few weeks.

Newfoundland Stands Out as Canada 'Frontier'

MONTREAL.—Newfoundland has been pictured by Sir Alfred Morine as Canada's first line of defense. If the old island colony were to fall into the hands of a foreign power, then Canada would be in real danger, the former premier of the old island colony declared.

He pointed out that Newfoundland commands the entrance to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the St. Lawrence river.

To Give Minstrel

The Craftsmen's Clubs of Kingston Lodge No. 10 and Roundout Lodge No. 343, F. & A. M., are combining their talents and will give a minstrel show. The show will be given the last week in November or in the week following, at the Holy Cross Parish House.

Moran's Student Council

Guest of Honor at Party

Work Nears Finish

Although it probably will be the end of the week, at least, before changes under way at the Whelan drug store are completed, installation of the new fountain and lunch counter was so far advanced that breakfast was again being served this morning. Preparations for the change-over were so complete and the workmen made such good time that, but two days of lunch counter business were lost. Alterations under way are extensive and involve not only the store but the basement.

Christmas Plans By Business Men; Committee Named

With Christmas but 55 days off the Uptown Business Men's Association met this morning and laid plans for the annual Christmas decorations in the uptown business sections and also decided on the time for Christmas opening of stores during the evening.

Stores will observe the 9:30 o'clock closing hour for one week before Christmas. Beginning December 18, the closing hour will be 9:30 p. m. daily until Christmas. It was also decided to fix the closing hour on Saturday, December 30, at 9:30 p. m.

Just what plans will be developed for street decorations is to be decided by a committee named by President Hardenbergh. The members voted to have the usual electric lighting effect on the streets with the association placing the electric light streamers across the business streets and the individual stores installing decorations on store fronts as in the past. The extent of the decorations was left to the committee but the association voted to eliminate the Christmas tree on the court house lawn this year.

On the Christmas decorations committee is James Rowe, chairman, Al Flanagan, A. W. Millott, Sam Bernstein, Howard Shurter, E. L. Davey and Abraham Goldmam. This committee will have charge of soliciting funds for the decorations and also decide on the extent of the decorations. It was voted to again invite Santa Claus to be the guest of the Uptown Business Men's Association and a resolution was also passed to the effect that organizations soliciting funds on the public streets during the Christmas holiday season refrain from attiring their solicitors in Santa Claus costumes.

Court Adjourned
